Midland Auto Sales Hit

Fire Loss Set At $8,000

MIDLAND'S AERIAL TRUCK was brought into play Tuesday night during an $8,000 fire at the Midland Auto Sales. Firemen were hampered by heavy smoke coming from a pile of burning tires.

Fire of an undetermined origin caused $8,000 damage to the body shop of the Midland Auto Sales at 7th St. and Midland Ave. Tuesday night.

The blaze, reported by a passerby at 9:18, was centered near the 9th St. entrance. Burning tires sent heavy black smoke sweeping through the building.

Fire Chief William Monac and Patrolman Paul Anthony were overcome by smoke. They were administered oxygen.

Twenty firemen responded to the alarm. The flames damaged the ceiling of the body shop and a supply of tires stored inside.

Smoke damage was reported "heavy" to cars and other equipment inside.

Bob Myers, an employe, succeeded in removing some cars from the garage until driven off by the smoke and fire.

This is the fourth fire in recent years to hit the firm, owned jointly by Tony Monac of Midland and James Blakeslee of Industry.

Firemen remained at the scene until 1 a. m. Ohioville police assisted Midland officers in directing traffic.

Firemen were hampered in their efforts by the billows of dense smoke.

The ladder truck was pressed into use. This was the first major fire in Midland since Monac was named chief. He was appointed to succeed Vincent D'Itri, now police chief.

4 Children Killed, 2 Americans Hurt

Saigon Air Base Shelled

SAIGON (AP) — Saigon's Tan Son Nhut air base was the target for the daily Viet Cong rocket attack on South Vietnam's capital today, and the 30 casualties—all civilians—included four Vietnamese children killed and two Americans wounded.

While civilians throughout Saigon filled sandbags to build home shelters, new fighting flared at opposite ends of the demilitarized zone. Allied troops reported killing 121 North Vietnamese in two battles.

The 10 rockets that hit Tan Son Nhut before dawn also wounded 24 Vietnamese and destroyed three houses, one helicopter and a small observation plane.

Several other planes, including a large military transport, were damaged at the sprawling base, a favorite target for enemy gunners even before the current wave of shellings.

The base contains Saigon's commercial airport, government and American air units, headquarters of the U.S. Military Command in Vietnam and the homes of a number of Vietnamese officials, including Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky.

At least 130 civilians have been killed and more than 1,000 wounded in 24 rocket attacks on Saigon since the Viet Cong launched its "peace talks" offensive May 5, the eve of the start of U.S.-North Vietnamese talks in Paris.

Although the official military view is that the shellings have little military significance concerns mounting about the psychological effect on Saigon's 3 million people. Additional government troops have been assigned to sweep the "rocket belt" around the capital.

Diplomatic sources in Paris said President Johnson is under pressure to counter the shelling by resuming bombing of Hanoi.

The fighting along the demilitarized zone was near Khe Sanh, in South Vietnam's northwestern corner, and near Gio Linh, in the northeastern corner.

A government spokesman said South Vietnamese infantrymen killed 93 infiltrating North Vietnamese soldiers near Gio Linh. He said 11 government soldiers were killed and 33 wounded.

U.S. Marines reported killing at least 28 of an estimated 400 North Vietnamese troops who attacked a fire support base seven miles southeast of Khe Sanh village. Fourteen Americans were killed and 15 wounded in the attack and a mortar barrage which preceded it.

The Marines had just arrived at the base and were digging in when the attack began. They called in artillery, fighter-bombers and helicopter gunships, and the attackers pulled out after 90 minutes.

The base is one of several set up to guard Highway 9, the only overland supply line into the Khe Sanh combat base, and to prevent renewal of the siege of the main base.

U.S. B52 bombers staged seven raids late Tuesday and today around Kontum and Dak To, in the central highlands 275 miles northeast of Saigon. U.S. intelligence officers say the enemy is still building up its forces in

Formal Bid Set For Ray Extradition

American Officials Hand Petition To British Government

LONDON (AP) — A formal request for the extradition of James Earl Ray, accused assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was handed to the British Foreign Office today by U.S. officials.

The U.S. Embassy declined details of the petition. It merely described it as "documents required for the extradition proceedings."

The documents run several hundred pages and contain information on Ray's identity and the cases against him—both in connection with King's murder and Ray's escape from the Missouri State Prison while serving an armed robbery sentence.

The Foreign Office now must certify that the request satisfies the terms of the extradition treaty with the United States. The Home Office then rules on the validity of the murder case under British as well as U.S. law. Then the file goes to a judge for a court hearing.

The formal extradition request came as Scotland Yard delved into the mysteries of Ray's stay in Britain.

Ray has been traced to two London hotels between May 28 and his arrest Saturday, but there is an unexplained gap of about 10 days, starting May 17 when he left Lisbon.

FBI agents were understood to be working with Scotland Yard detectives, but British police are doing the spadework since the FBI has no legal authority in foreign countries. Police on both sides of the Atlantic are trying to untangle Ray's

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Four armed inmates released 21 hostages at the U.S. Penitentiary today after an agreement by prison officials to meet certain demands.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Inmates who refused to report to their job assignments today began breaking windows in one wing of the U.S. Penitentiary where four inmates have been holding 22 hostages since Tuesday morning.

But there were indications a deal had been made between the warden and four inmates who are holding the hostages in the administrative section.

The Atlanta Journal said it had agreed to publish a list of grievances, and indications were that the hostages would be released after the inmates see the published list.

The inmates sent for an Atlanta Journal reporter shortly after they grabbed the hostages.

"There are hopeful signs," a spokesman for the Bureau of Prisons said. The spokesman, William C. King, declined to elaborate.

The Journal reporter, William B. Williams, spent the night at the prison, and talked with the inmates along with the warden, Olin G. Blackwell, via radio-telephone.

Blackwell said the trouble started as an attempt to break out, but the inmates then demanded to see Williams, who covers federal court.

Blackwell said he was told the inmates had two pistols and about 50 rounds of ammunition, but it was not known how they obtained them. Guards inside

Resignations Withdrawn By McNea And Grid Aides

Blair said he assured the coaches their contracts as coaches and pay scales for 1968-69 were considered confirmed and not negotiable following the April deadline for revision of contract terms. All such faculty contracts are so considered, he explained.

Asked if the ELTA's discussions centered on the 1969-70 term, he said he assumed so.

Why? An Answer And Solution

Throughout the nation anguished cries of "Why, why?" have been heard in the wake of the tragic assassination of Sen. Robert Kennedy.

Many citizens seem perplexed, sincerely puzzled. Forced unwillingly to believe the horrible facts surrounding the slaying, they nevertheless display considerable confusion when it comes to analyzing the reason or reasons "why."

Is it really so perplexing?

The cause seems not so difficult — but the cure very much so.

HATRED SEEMS the basic cause, the reason "why."

The assassin whose bullets took the life of John F. Kennedy was actively Castro-Communist, a participant in a cause which hates the United States and what it represents.

The man accused of the murder of Robert F. Kennedy is an alien, filled with great hatred of a nation he feared Sen. Kennedy was rallying support for.

The men who killed Martin Luther King and Medgar W. Evers or the men behind the men who pulled the triggers were filled with hate — they had to be.

In all four of these assassinations, hatred seems clearly identifiable as the basic motivation.

To prevent assassinations of this type from occurring, somehow hatred must first be abolished from the earth. A means of doing this exists. It has been clearly spelled out for nearly 2,000 years.

It advises man to love his neighbor as himself.

It is a simple clear-cut rule to follow — not at all an easy one, but unmistakably clear. It is a rule for life which, if Christian, Jew, Arab and Buddhist, Communist were to follow, would just about eliminate assassinations from the face of the earth.

The problem and the goal is to get them to follow it.

The Unfair Odds

Loss of a Chester child, an Industry area boy and a Hookstown district youth by drowning in the last three days are tragic reminders of the warm weather danger which lurks in our rivers, lakes and pools.

The appeal of a cooling dip should be tempered with a full understanding of all the precautions which must be taken while swimming or boating. Young people in particular are either unaware of the terrible hazards, or are willing to pit themselves against the unfair odds.

There will be more saddening loss of life in the area's waters. Each family should take especial care to insure such tragedy does not strike at their loved ones.

RAYMOND MOLEY

Danger Of Popular Fronts

If Charles de Gaulle were not so busy dealing with anarchy at home, he might take a hand in our American political campaign. For he revealed in Canada last year that he has no hesitation about meddling in political affairs abroad.

Perhaps, if he were to express a choice among our aspirants for president, he would no doubt favor Sen. Eugene McCarthy. Indeed, his past advice to us has been to get out of Vietnam.

The French president is not conspicuous for his consistency except in his own concern for his own power. He was quite favorable to coalition arrangements with the Communists abroad, but he certainly wants nothing of the sort of his beloved France. He came into power over there on a wave of discontent with unstable governments and popular fronts. And the constitutional changes he imposed were designed to avoid such governments in the future.

BACK IN THE 1930s he saw a popular front in France which provided the groundwork for the disaster of 1940, and he came back from his retirement in the 1950s to save his country from such a catastrophe. Now his firm stand is to prevent the return of the old instability.

De Gaulle must be quite aware of long-term Communist strategy.

In the pronouncements of the various "Internationales" before 1935, the slogan was "revolutionary extremism." But as a competent student of communism, Louis L. Lorwin has pointed out that it was called "popular front" from 1935-39 — that is, co-operation with all liberal groups.

No doubt the inception for that change was the introduction of a popular front government in France in 1963. The main beneficiaries of that popular front were the Communists, who won 72 seats in the Chamber of Deputies in the 1936 election, and in the government of the Socialist Leon Blum they won recognition as a partner of the Socialists.

The Internationale in 1935 called for the creation of a popular front as the first step to a Communist take-over.

The popular front is another name for a coalition government.

I am not convinced that McCarthy understands this history when he advocates a coalition in South Vietnam with the Viet Cong as a working partner with other elements. He said in a recent debate that "we have to have a new government in South Vietnam. I'm not particularly concerned with whether it's called a coalition or a fusion or a new government of some kind."

That would be loose talk from a former professor even if he were not a candidate for president. And such an expression is also grossly improper when his own government is negotiating for an end to the fighting. For our government in the Seven Nation Agreement made in New Zealand this year solemnly pledged itself, with the others, against a coalition with the Viet Cong in South Vietnam.

The blindness of this would-be president and thousands of professors and "intellectuals" who support him is strange when we consider the more recent history of coalition governments. They must be familiar with this history.

IN CHINA in the 1940s, the Truman administration deliberately invited the creation of Red China through suggesting a coalition government. That Communist government is a present menace to our interests and security.

And in Laos we seem to have agreed to a government which is, in fact, permitting Communist North Vietnam to use Laotian territory as a base against our military forces.

The two worlds, Communist and nonCommunist, are watching our negotiations in Paris. For if in the end we yield, as McCarthy suggests, and agree to a coalition with Communists in Vietnam, all of Southeast Asia will become Communist. An end which would be intolerable for every nonCommunist country in or on the periphery of Asia.

VICTOR RIESEL

Private Talk With Kennedy

Bob Kennedy and I.

Until the last he understood the grimness of the swift and stealthy assailant — and the sudden darkness. And I have never forgotten.

Victor Riesel

Frequently, in our common campaign against the Cosa Nostra, we talked of the vicious victories evil men won because good men rarely banded together to fight back. Once we talked long and quietly of the plot to plastic bomb his car or swimming pool terrace by those who wanted him killed.

There was no bravado. Just caution which always is the better part of valor.

Not always did the Mafia move us. There were bantering political dialogues during which we disagreed. Sometimes not so bantering — especially once when I asked if he would eventually make the nominating speech for Lyndon Johnson at the Democratic convention.

Once when I expected sharpness, he laughed. I told him some of his advisors, such as Arthur Schlesinger Jr., were born losers who worshipped victory, and would abandom him if ever he lost the font of political power. He grinned and said that's right, "and I've told them that. You know, I'm a Kennedy and I don't kid myself.

But most recently, when last we conversed, he asked pointedly why virtually all labor leaders were against him. Was there any chance of a rapproachment, I thought not account only on Walter Reuther and the United Auto Workers.

I WAS TELLING HIM nothing new. He had always had the formidable Reuther-UAW political machine.

It did the nitty-gritty work in Indiana. And it pushed him across in California, easily responsible for most of the four per cent margin with which he nosed out Gene McCarthy.

Some of Reuther's brighest aides were all over the state. Between them and their allies they whipped up scores of thousands of votes in the valleys, in the produce areas, in the black communities and among the Mexican-Americans.

Alongside Bob Kennedy that ghastly night were the Reuther people, men in and out of the UAW. Standing and later striding alongside the Senator was the UAW's tall, 43-year-old, Yale-educated Region 6 director, Paul Schrade, a power in Watts and part of the inner mechanism of Caesar Chavez's United Farm Workers Organizing Committee.

Few realize that had one of Sirhan Sirhan's bullets moved two or three millimeters over, Scharade would be dead. As it was, the slug fractured his skull and he fell close to Bob Kennedy.

Caesar Chavez was there, too. And Henry Santiestevan, himself a Mexican-American, who is public relations director of the AFL-CIO's Industrial Union Department (IUD), and was on leave to the Kennedy campaign headquarters in California.

National labor officials rushed to California to stop Bob Kennedy. These men believe that it was thus combination of Reuther's aides and allies, directed by the former IUD leader, Jack Conway, which produced the victory margin for the late Senator.

Paul Schrade was operated on for removal of bullet fragments from his skull. He will recover.

HOW HE BECOMES a symbol of the Kennedy charisma and campaign juggernaut. It is a structured machine. It still reaches into some 45 states. Schrade now is a Kennedy-pledged delegate to the nominating convention. Once there, where will be go? Where will they all go?

No one now talks aloud. This is the moment for pianissimo politics. There will be a low key campaign. But led by whom? The Kennedys have what Gene McCarthy needs — a machine with a solid labor section. McCarthy is what the machine needs, a leader and a candidate.

It will be erroneous political analysis to mistake the traumatic sorrow of the moment for the finality of tomorrow.

I recall talking with Bob Kennedy in December of 1963, and again in January 1964. There was a morbid nothingness. He moved and talked like an automaton determined to go through the routines of the day.

Then came '64. Gone were the decisions of the post-Dallas days not to travel or speak or be interviewed.

THEN CAME THE Senate race, victory. Also a decision not to make any speeches outside New York. And then there was a new Bob Kennedy and new politics.

So it will be as time edges this newest sorrow into the subconscious. Bob Kennedy's legions still are strong. They have lost a leader but not a goal or national or international policies.

Today the pros in politics talk in whispers. But they talk. They began talking within a few hours of the death bulletin. They expect the Kennedy forces to effect what their dead leader had sought — a Kennedy-McCarthy coalition at the convention.

It will be a powerful alliance. And it will be fought by the same forces which tried to stop Bob Kennedy as he tried to stop the Johnson-Humphrey coalition.

Regardless of today's pianissimo politics, the opposing forces are lining up again — for McCarthy in '68 and, eventually, for a third brother. The Kennedy's don't quit. Neither do their opponents.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Edward Kennedy

Sen. Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts could emerge at the Democratic national convention as the vice presidential candidate on a ticket headed by Hubert Humphrey.

There may be lots of reasons why some of the Humphrey followers would prefer someone else. But with the tragic departure of Robert Kennedy from the political race, the whole picture has changed.

When the Humphrey people look at the political scene today, they will have to recognize that the Kennedy strength has gone up by leaps and bounds in the past few weeks. The fact of the matter is that the Kennedy forces control a substantial number of delegates in the populous states where Hubert Humphrey needs all the help he can get.

ALL INDICATIONS ARE that Robert Kennedy had tremendous appeal among minority groups, particularly the Negroes. This would undoubtedly carry over to this brother, along with the Catholic vote.

So the question of what Sen. Edward Kennedy could contribute to a Humphrey victory in November may be crucial.

All this doesn't, of course, mean at the moment that the Humphrey entourage would necessarily want Sen. Kennedy on the ticket, or that there will be any immediate indication of a desire to select him at the convention.

Also, much will depend on whether Edward Kennedy speaks out early in support of Hubert Humphrey and strives for a united party instead of battling on the side of Sen. McCarthy until convention time.

It has been suggested that the younger brother as well as the followers of Robert Kennedy would throw in their lot with Sen. Eugene McCarthy and would try to line up support for him.

The Massachusetts senator, however, would have more to gain by running for the vice presidency. In that office, there would be an opportunity to expose himself throughout the country and the world in a manner that would help him in a subsequent campaign as a presidential candidate.

The younger Kennedy is not the same type of personality as was his brother, Robert. He is a much more amiable, cordial and extroverted individual. He has in his relatively short time in the Senate shown himself capable of getting along with opposing views on controversial questions.

Sen. Kennedy has gained experience hunting delegates in some of the important nonprimary states and is capable of dealing with state and local political organizations.

He managed John F. Kennedy's campaign for re-election to the Senate in 1958, and was western state co-ordinator in helping his brother, John, win the nomination and election to the presidency in 1960.

He immediately joined his brother, Robert, when the latter announced in March that he was entering the presidential race this year, and actively campaigned with him.

Sen. Edward Kennedy is only 36 years old, but he is a very intelligent and well-informed person who knows his way around in government and in politics. If he should become vice president of the United States and should serve eight years as second man in an administration, he would still be only 44 years of age when the chance came for him to run for the top spot.

In the meantime, he would have an opportunity to become known to voters across the nation and to cement relations with political organizations in all states. Should fate during that period create a vacancy in the presidency, Edward Kennedy would become the second Kennedy to occupy the White House.

The Massachusetts Senator has thus far not been the subject of as much controversy as surrounded by his older brothers. He has not, for instance, taken the same kind of positive position in dissent on the Vietnam War or on some other issues as did Robert Kennedy. He has concentrated rather on domestic affairs and worked as a senator through the customary legislative process.

THE GENERAL FEELING is that Edward Kennedy will eventually seek the highest office in the land. His whole background has been in the political field, and political ambition is in the family tradition.

Sen. Kennedy himself, in a recent speech for his brother, Robert, at a barbecue in Iowa, referred to his having spoken there in 1960 for his brother, John, and of being introduced this year as "the brother of a presidential candidate."

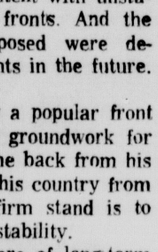

Then he said: "If, about eight years from now, you see me coming back to this picnic—well. . . ." The audience roared its approval of Edward Kennedy's allusion to a future candidacy for the presidency.

Thoughts Of RFK

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — When a friend dies, and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was a friend, thoughts come to you in hazy film sequences, not in any particular order.

The camera pans across the sweeping lawn at Hickory Hill and Bobby Kennedy is walking alone in deep thought. Suddenly he picks up a football and tosses it to his 12-year-old son, David. Two minutes later all the guests are in a fierce touch football game with the Kennedys, including Ethel, playing as if it were the most important match in the world. Fadeout.

Art Buchwald

Closeup. Bobby in black tie at a party talking intensely about the future of the country. Pointing his finger and saying, "We've got to find an answer to the problems of the nation, not only for us but for our children and our grandchildren. We can't go on the way we're going." Fadeout.

BOBBY, SITTING ON the lawn during a pet show at Hickory Hill. Brumus, his large New foundland dog, lifts his leg and while Bobby watches in horror, Brumus relieves himself on a woman eating her lunch. Bobby runs into the house before the woman realizes what's happened to her.

Wide-angle shot of the library. It's the night before Bobby is going to announce he's getting into the presidential race. Ted Sorensen reads a draft of the announcement which starts, "I have decided to run for president of the United States." Bobby, laughing, "Aw Ted, do I really have to say that?"

Cut to the Colorado River. Bobby is on a rubber mattress riding the rapids. The rest of the party is in the rafts. The boatman yells, "Sen. Kennedy, don't take the next rapids. They're too dangerous." Bobby won't get back in the boat. The people on the raft yell, "Don't do it, Bobby." Bobby, a glint in his eye, takes the rapids. He makes it, and everyone cheers.

CUT TO CAMPFIRE in the Grand Canyon. Bobby talking about the plight of the Indians that live in the area and how ignored they are by the rest of the country. He speaks with deep feeling.

Pan to Hyannis Port. A sailboat race. Bobby is the skipper of a two-man crew. Two 14-year-olds in another sailboat slice across the bow and Bobby, in a fury, yells, "I've got the right of way." They yell back, "Tough luck," and Bobby shouts, "I'm protesting to the judges." A crew member says, "That should take the wind out of their sails." Bobby says, "You don't joke when you race." Silence for the rest of the trip.

Fade in on Bobby sitting on the dining room floor with the phone to his ear, chewing out one of his staff for something they shouldn't have said. "I'm the only one in American politics who ever had both labor and business against me."

Bobby at the funeral of a television producer killed in Jordan, comforting the widow.

TIGHT SHOT of Bobby discussing jokes for a gridiron speech. "You know I can't say that about Lyndon."

Bobby and Ethel. Ethel and Bobby. Bobby and Ethel. Ethel and Bobby. The images go so fast, it's hard to fix them in your mind.

And finally, the last scene, only this time the camera is on a small television screen and you stare in disbelief as your friend is lying on the floor of a hotel kitchen corridor in Los Angeles. Somehow you know without seeing the printed titles that it is THE END.

BACK IN THE 1930s he saw a popular front in France which provided the groundwork for the disaster of 1940, and he came back from his retirement in the 1950s to save his country from such a catastrophe. Now his firm stand is to prevent the return of the old instability.

De Gaulle must be quite aware of long-term Communist strategy.

In the pronouncements of the various "Internationales" before 1935, the slogan was "revolutionary extremism." But as a competent student of communism, Louis L. Lorwin has pointed out that it was called "popular front" from 1935-39 — that is, co-operation with all liberal groups.

No doubt the inception for that change was the introduction of a popular front government in France in 1963. The main beneficiaries of that popular front were the Communists, who won 72 seats in the Chamber of Deputies in the 1936 election, and in the government of the Socialist Leon Blum they won recognition as a partner of the Socialists.

The Internationale in 1935 called for the creation of a popular front as the first step to a Communist take-over.

The popular front is another name for a coalition government.

I am not convinced that McCarthy understands this history when he advocates a coalition in South Vietnam with the Viet Cong as a working partner with other elements. He said in a recent debate that "we have to have a new government in South Vietnam. I'm not particularly concerned with whether it's called a coalition or a fusion or a new government of some kind."

That would be loose talk from a former professor even if he were not a candidate for president. And such an expression is also grossly improper when his own government is negotiating for an end to the fighting. For our government in the Seven Nation Agreement made in New Zealand this year solemnly pledged itself, with the others, against a coalition with the Viet Cong in South Vietnam.

The blindness of this would-be president and thousands of professors and "intellectuals" who support him is strange when we consider the more recent history of coalition governments. They must be familiar with this history.

IN CHINA in the 1940s, the Truman administration deliberately invited the creation of Red China through suggesting a coalition government. That Communist government is a present menace to our interests and security.

And in Laos we seem to have agreed to a government which is, in fact, permitting Communist North Vietnam to use Laotian territory as a base against our military forces.

The two worlds, Communist and nonCommunist, are watching our negotiations in Paris. For if in the end we yield, as McCarthy suggests, and agree to a coalition with Communists in Vietnam, all of Southeast Asia will become Communist. An end which would be intolerable for every nonCommunist country in or on the periphery of Asia.

VICTOR RIESEL

Private Talk With Kennedy

Bob Kennedy and I.

Until the last he understood the grimness of the swift and stealthy assailant — and the sudden darkness. And I have never forgotten.

Victor Riesel

Frequently, in our common campaign against the Cosa Nostra, we talked of the vicious victories evil men won because good men rarely banded together to fight back. Once we talked long and quietly of the plot to plastic bomb his car or swimming pool terrace by those who wanted him killed.

There was no bravado. Just caution which always is the better part of valor.

Not always did the Mafia move us. There were bantering political dialogues during which we disagreed. Sometimes not so bantering — especially once when I asked if he would eventually make the nominating speech for Lyndon Johnson at the Democratic convention.

Once when I expected sharpness, he laughed. I told him some of his advisors, such as Arthur Schlesinger Jr., were born losers who worshipped victory, and would abandom him if ever he lost the font of political power. He grinned and said that's right, "and I've told them that. You know, I'm a Kennedy and I don't kid myself.

But most recently, when last we conversed, he asked pointedly why virtually all labor leaders were against him. Was there any chance of a rapproachment, I thought not account only on Walter Reuther and the United Auto Workers.

I WAS TELLING HIM nothing new. He had always had the formidable Reuther-UAW political machine.

It did the nitty-gritty work in Indiana. And it pushed him across in California, easily responsible for most of the four per cent margin with which he nosed out Gene McCarthy.

Some of Reuther's brighest aides were all over the state. Between them and their allies they whipped up scores of thousands of votes in the valleys, in the produce areas, in the black communities and among the Mexican-Americans.

Alongside Bob Kennedy that ghastly night were the Reuther people, men in and out of the UAW. Standing and later striding alongside the Senator was the UAW's tall, 43-year-old, Yale-educated Region 6 director, Paul Schrade, a power in Watts and part of the inner mechanism of Caesar Chavez's United Farm Workers Organizing Committee.

Few realize that had one of Sirhan Sirhan's bullets moved two or three millimeters over, Scharade would be dead. As it was, the slug fractured his skull and he fell close to Bob Kennedy.

Caesar Chavez was there, too. And Henry Santiestevan, himself a Mexican-American, who is public relations director of the AFL-CIO's Industrial Union Department (IUD), and was on leave to the Kennedy campaign headquarters in California.

National labor officials rushed to California to stop Bob Kennedy. These men believe that it was thus combination of Reuther's aides and allies, directed by the former IUD leader, Jack Conway, which produced the victory margin for the late Senator.

Paul Schrade was operated on for removal of bullet fragments from his skull. He will recover.

HOW HE BECOMES a symbol of the Kennedy charisma and campaign juggernaut. It is a structured machine. It still reaches into some 45 states. Schrade now is a Kennedy-pledged delegate to the nominating convention. Once there, where will be go? Where will they all go?

No one now talks aloud. This is the moment for pianissimo politics. There will be a low key campaign. But led by whom? The Kennedys have what Gene McCarthy needs — a machine with a solid labor section. McCarthy is what the machine needs, a leader and a candidate.

It will be erroneous political analysis to mistake the traumatic sorrow of the moment for the finality of tomorrow.

I recall talking with Bob Kennedy in December of 1963, and again in January 1964. There was a morbid nothingness. He moved and talked like an automaton determined to go through the routines of the day.

Then came '64. Gone were the decisions of the post-Dallas days not to travel or speak or be interviewed.

THEN CAME THE Senate race, victory. Also a decision not to make any speeches outside New York. And then there was a new Bob Kennedy and new politics.

So it will be as time edges this newest sorrow into the subconscious. Bob Kennedy's legions still are strong. They have lost a leader but not a goal or national or international policies.

Today the pros in politics talk in whispers. But they talk. They began talking within a few hours of the death bulletin. They expect the Kennedy forces to effect what their dead leader had sought — a Kennedy-McCarthy coalition at the convention.

It will be a powerful alliance. And it will be fought by the same forces which tried to stop Bob Kennedy as he tried to stop the Johnson-Humphrey coalition.

Regardless of today's pianissimo politics, the opposing forces are lining up again — for McCarthy in '68 and, eventually, for a third brother. The Kennedy's don't quit. Neither do their opponents.

Thoughts Of RFK

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — When a friend dies, and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was a friend, thoughts come to you in hazy film sequences, not in any particular order.

The camera pans across the sweeping lawn at Hickory Hill and Bobby Kennedy is walking alone in deep thought. Suddenly he picks up a football and tosses it to his 12-year-old son, David. Two minutes later all the guests are in a fierce touch football game with the Kennedys, including Ethel, playing as if it were the most important match in the world. Fadeout.

Art Buchwald

Closeup. Bobby in black tie at a party talking intensely about the future of the country. Pointing his finger and saying, "We've got to find an answer to the problems of the nation, not only for us but for our children and our grandchildren. We can't go on the way we're going." Fadeout.

BOBBY, SITTING ON the lawn during a pet show at Hickory Hill. Brumus, his large New foundland dog, lifts his leg and while Bobby watches in horror, Brumus relieves himself on a woman eating her lunch. Bobby runs into the house before the woman realizes what's happened to her.

Wide-angle shot of the library. It's the night before Bobby is going to announce he's getting into the presidential race. Ted Sorensen reads a draft of the announcement which starts, "I have decided to run for president of the United States." Bobby, laughing, "Aw Ted, do I really have to say that?"

Cut to the Colorado River. Bobby is on a rubber mattress riding the rapids. The rest of the party is in the rafts. The boatman yells, "Sen. Kennedy, don't take the next rapids. They're too dangerous." Bobby won't get back in the boat. The people on the raft yell, "Don't do it, Bobby." Bobby, a glint in his eye, takes the rapids. He makes it, and everyone cheers.

CUT TO CAMPFIRE in the Grand Canyon. Bobby talking about the plight of the Indians that live in the area and how ignored they are by the rest of the country. He speaks with deep feeling.

Pan to Hyannis Port. A sailboat race. Bobby is the skipper of a two-man crew. Two 14-year-olds in another sailboat slice across the bow and Bobby, in a fury, yells, "I've got the right of way." They yell back, "Tough luck," and Bobby shouts, "I'm protesting to the judges." A crew member says, "That should take the wind out of their sails." Bobby says, "You don't joke when you race." Silence for the rest of the trip.

Fade in on Bobby sitting on the dining room floor with the phone to his ear, chewing out one of his staff for something they shouldn't have said. "I'm the only one in American politics who ever had both labor and business against me."

Bobby at the funeral of a television producer killed in Jordan, comforting the widow.

TIGHT SHOT of Bobby discussing jokes for a gridiron speech. "You know I can't say that about Lyndon."

Bobby and Ethel. Ethel and Bobby. Bobby and Ethel. Ethel and Bobby. The images go so fast, it's hard to fix them in your mind.

And finally, the last scene, only this time the camera is on a small television screen and you stare in disbelief as your friend is lying on the floor of a hotel kitchen corridor in Los Angeles. Somehow you know without seeing the printed titles that it is THE END.

Industry Opens Water Plan Bids

The Industry Municipal Authority Tuesday night opened bids on a $540,200 water system expansion.

Bidding on Contract I for waterline extensions were H. J. Schneider Construction, Inc., of Pittsburgh, the apparent low bidder, $299,764; Guy Gingerella & Sons of Midland, $353,940; Frank Kukurin & Sons, Inc., of East McKeesport, $316,224; Casper Colosimo & Son, Inc., of Pittsburgh, $453,690, and Alex Paris Contracting Co., Inc., of Atlasburg, $364,914.

THE SOLE bidder on Contract II, the tank foundations, booster stations and site work, was Guy Gingerella & Sons of Midland, offering $83,000.

The low bidder on Contract III for three steel water reservoirs was Miles P. Brown Boiler Works of Franklin at $70,200. Other bidders were Edwin J. Lodygowski of Pittsburgh, $76,978; Thomas Tanks Inc. of Columbus, $96,126; Wytherop Erection, In., of Franklin, $70,993; Pittsburgh Des-Moines Steel Co., $74,800; Dorcon, Inc., of Warren, Pa., $77,130; Fisher Tank Co. of Chester, Pa., $79,320, and Chicago Bridge and Iron Co. of Pittsburgh, $80,300.

The bids were referred to Michael Baker Jr., Inc., borough engineer, for tabulation and recommendation.

The authority hopes to award the contracts within a week to 10 days.

SOME OF the solicitations and applications for water service from area residents were reviewed. The authority said the new program is not receiving support from residents of Industry village and those along Eagle Rd. The Crucible Management Club and Western Beaver School are located on Engle Rd.

A 90 per cent resident signup is required to proceed. Another solicitation is planned. Don Haswell, authority chairman, urged residents of the areas to reconsider, since the success of the entire project is involved.

Haswell will speak to Industry residents tonight at 8 at the old Industry School building.

He said the system would increase fire protection, lower fire insurance rates by 25 per cent and would increase properties values.

Ray

travels, which took him to Canada Britain and Portugal after King was shot April 4.

Ray was transferred Tuesday to a maximum security cell in Wandsworth Prison because Brixton Jail on London's South Side, was not considered secure enough.

Extradition proceedings could last two months if the 40-year-old escaped convict fights all the way through the British courts.

As a first step, American authorities have obtained a provisional British warrant charging Ray with the murder of King in Memphis, Tenn. A State Department spokesman in Washington said documents to support the extradition request "will be transmitted to London shortly."

The British police are holding Ray on charges of using a forged passport and carrying a loaded gun. On Scotland Yard's records he is officially listed as Ramon George Sneyd, the name on his Canadian passport.

U.S. officials have not tried to question Ray to avoid legal complications resulting from Supreme Court decisions in recent years. And now that he has been charged under British law, Scotland Yard cannot interrogate him outside a courtroom.

While British police were trying to ascertain whether Ray had any contacts in London, detectives in Toronto were searching for a short blond man who reportedly came looking for Ray in a rooming house three or four days after the suspect flew to London.

The landlady, Mrs. Fela Szpakowski, told police about the caller, the second Ray reportedly had during his month-long stay in Toronto after the assassination of King. The first was an unidentified fat man who was reported to have called on Ray at another rooming house.

Mrs. Szpakowski said the blond caller presented a police identification card, but both the Mounted Police and the Toronto police said he was not a policeman.

The Atlanta Ga., Constitution, in a copyright article, said that an apartment manager in the Southern city's hippie district reported a man using the name Eric Starvo Galt stayed in his building for more than a week prior to the slaying of King. The name is one of the aliases undre which Ray was sought by the FBI.

The manager said the man "looked more like a preacher than a convict."

Prison

the penitentiary carry no guns.

There was no explanation as to how the inmates managed to seize the hostages in the administrative offices.

One hostage, B. V. Wolfe, a parole case worker, was released Tuesday night to give Blackwell the list of grievances.

Coffee, sandwiches and blankets were sent to the hostages.

The penitentiary is one of several maximum security institutions in the country. It has about 2,000 inmates.

All four inmates involved are serving lengthy sentences. They are identified as Frederick Freeman Leister Jr., serving 15 years for bank robbery with assault; Ralph M. Lepiscopo, serving 20 years for bank robbery; Robert W. Gorman, serving 30 years for bank robbery and robbery of a trust company; and Ivan Daniel Neighbors, serving 120 years for kidnaping and murder on a government reservation.

The four initially took 25 hostages, but released two women who became ill. Most of the hostages were identified as clerical employes or case workers.

Blackwell said he was told the inmates had two pistols and 50 rounds of ammunition. Other officials said no determination has been made about how the inmates obtained the arms.

Man Sentenced Refuses To Eat

CINCINNATI (AP) — James Wessner, 24, sentenced Tuesday in U.S. District Court to four years in prison for failing to report for draft induction, refused today to eat his breakfast in the Hamilton County jail or come out of his cell.

Wessner had said he would not eat, drink or move. He is held in the county jail awaiting assignment to a federal prison.

Wessner, of nearby Blanchester, was sentenced by Judge David Porter, who refused a request for a 10-day delay in the imprisonment. Porter said too many young draft resisters are skipping to Canada.

Industry Opens Water Plan Bids

The Industry Municipal Authority Tuesday night opened bids on a $540,200 water system expansion.

Bidding on Contract I for waterline extensions were H. J. Schneider Construction, Inc., of Pittsburgh, the apparent low bidder, $299,764; Guy Gingerella & Sons of Midland, $353,940; Frank Kukurin & Sons, Inc., of East McKeesport, $316,224; Casper Colosimo & Son, Inc., of Pittsburgh, $453,690, and Alex Paris Contracting Co., Inc., of Atlasburg, $364,914.

THE SOLE bidder on Contract II, the tank foundations, booster stations and site work, was Guy Gingerella & Sons of Midland, offering $83,000.

The low bidder on Contract III for three steel water reservoirs was Miles P. Brown Boiler Works of Franklin at $70,200. Other bidders were Edwin J. Lodygowski of Pittsburgh, $76,978; Thomas Tanks Inc. of Columbus, $96,126; Wytherop Erection, In., of Franklin, $70,993; Pittsburgh Des-Moines Steel Co., $74,800; Dorcon, Inc., of Warren, Pa., $77,130; Fisher Tank Co. of Chester, Pa., $79,320, and Chicago Bridge and Iron Co. of Pittsburgh, $80,300.

The bids were referred to Michael Baker Jr., Inc., borough engineer, for tabulation and recommendation.

The authority hopes to award the contracts within a week to 10 days.

SOME OF the solicitations and applications for water service from area residents were reviewed. The authority said the new program is not receiving support from residents of Industry village and those along Eagle Rd. The Crucible Management Club and Western Beaver School are located on Engle Rd.

A 90 per cent resident signup is required to proceed. Another solicitation is planned. Don Haswell, authority chairman, urged residents of the areas to reconsider, since the success of the entire project is involved.

Haswell will speak to Industry residents tonight at 8 at the old Industry School building.

He said the system would increase fire protection, lower fire insurance rates by 25 per cent and would increase properties values.

Ray

travels, which took him to Canada Britain and Portugal after King was shot April 4.

Ray was transferred Tuesday to a maximum security cell in Wandsworth Prison because Brixton Jail on London's South Side, was not considered secure enough.

Extradition proceedings could last two months if the 40-year-old escaped convict fights all the way through the British courts.

As a first step, American authorities have obtained a provisional British warrant charging Ray with the murder of King in Memphis, Tenn. A State Department spokesman in Washington said documents to support the extradition request "will be transmitted to London shortly."

The British police are holding Ray on charges of using a forged passport and carrying a loaded gun. On Scotland Yard's records he is officially listed as Ramon George Sneyd, the name on his Canadian passport.

U.S. officials have not tried to question Ray to avoid legal complications resulting from Supreme Court decisions in recent years. And now that he has been charged under British law, Scotland Yard cannot interrogate him outside a courtroom.

While British police were trying to ascertain whether Ray had any contacts in London, detectives in Toronto were searching for a short blond man who reportedly came looking for Ray in a rooming house three or four days after the suspect flew to London.

The landlady, Mrs. Fela Szpakowski, told police about the caller, the second Ray reportedly had during his month-long stay in Toronto after the assassination of King. The first was an unidentified fat man who was reported to have called on Ray at another rooming house.

Mrs. Szpakowski said the blond caller presented a police identification card, but both the Mounted Police and the Toronto police said he was not a policeman.

The Atlanta Ga., Constitution, in a copyright article, said that an apartment manager in the Southern city's hippie district reported a man using the name Eric Starvo Galt stayed in his building for more than a week prior to the slaying of King. The name is one of the aliases undre which Ray was sought by the FBI.

The manager said the man "looked more like a preacher than a convict."

Prison

the penitentiary carry no guns.

There was no explanation as to how the inmates managed to seize the hostages in the administrative offices.

One hostage, B. V. Wolfe, a parole case worker, was released Tuesday night to give Blackwell the list of grievances.

Coffee, sandwiches and blankets were sent to the hostages.

The penitentiary is one of several maximum security institutions in the country. It has about 2,000 inmates.

All four inmates involved are serving lengthy sentences. They are identified as Frederick Freeman Leister Jr., serving 15 years for bank robbery with assault; Ralph M. Lepiscopo, serving 20 years for bank robbery; Robert W. Gorman, serving 30 years for bank robbery and robbery of a trust company; and Ivan Daniel Neighbors, serving 120 years for kidnaping and murder on a government reservation.

The four initially took 25 hostages, but released two women who became ill. Most of the hostages were identified as clerical employes or case workers.

Blackwell said he was told the inmates had two pistols and 50 rounds of ammunition. Other officials said no determination has been made about how the inmates obtained the arms.

Man Sentenced Refuses To Eat

CINCINNATI (AP) — James Wessner, 24, sentenced Tuesday in U.S. District Court to four years in prison for failing to report for draft induction, refused today to eat his breakfast in the Hamilton County jail or come out of his cell.

Wessner had said he would not eat, drink or move. He is held in the county jail awaiting assignment to a federal prison.

Wessner, of nearby Blanchester, was sentenced by Judge David Porter, who refused a request for a 10-day delay in the imprisonment. Porter said too many young draft resisters are skipping to Canada.

Teacher Hired, Two Resign At Meeting Of Lisbon Board

LISBON — The Board of Education Tuesday night employed Miss Joyce Homan of Lisbon, a 1968 graduate of Kent State University, to teach an elementary grade at $5,200 a year.

Miss Homan is the daughter of Mrs. Arlene Homan, an elementary teacher at McKinley School, and did practice teaching the past year at McKinley.

The board accepted the resignations of John Vaglia, industrial arts teacher at David Anderson High School the last four years, and Miss Nancy Shattuck of Lisbon, an elementary teacher who was on leave of absence last school year to further her education.

Supt. Joe W. Driscoll said Vaglia has accepted a position in a large high school near Pittsburgh, where he lives. Miss Shattuck will teach next year at Pompano Beach, Fla.

"Biological Science," written by Gregory Goldman and published this year by Ginn & Co., was adopted as a textbook for high shool.

Board members authorized Clerk Richard Bowling to write a letter thanking the Columbiana County Automobile Club (AAA) for furnishing the dinner for the annual school bus drivers' event April 18.

With the temperature in the 80's, the board gave Driscoll authority to spend up to $300 for an air-conditioner for the administration office.

Driscoll said he will attend a meeting at 7:30 tonight in Salem Senior High School to discuss a vocational program with educators from surrounding school districts in Columbiana and Mahoning counties. The meeting was arranged by Supt. Robert Pond of Salem. Other administrators and board members invited are from Fairfield-Waterford, United, Leetonia, Columbiana, East Palestine, North Lima, Greenford, West Branch, Sebring and Western Reserve districts.

Kapp, Vodrey Enter Appeal On Money Question

Sollcitor J. Michael Kapp and his assistant, Jackman Vodrey, today mailed to Columbus the papers in which the city will ask the State Board of Tax Appeals to rule that it has a right to appropriate immediately the money anticipated from a boost in the municipal income tax and not wait until late in 1968 to allocate the funds, as the County Budget Commission contends it must do.

The appeal, made in the name of Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger as fiscal officer, was authorized Monday night in legislation approved by Council.

The city asked the budget commission in March to authorize allocation of the extra funds in the annual appropriation ordinance, enacted late that month. The commission said the city must wait to make the appropriation until the new revenue had been received.

Vodrey and Kapp expect to file briefs in support of their appeal within 15 days. The state agency may hear oral arguments from both sides before ruling.

Area Youth Hurt As Car Hits Tree Near Wellsville

A 16-year-old LaCroft youth was hurt Tuesday when his 1961 sedan went out of control on Township Line Rd. after running over a truck spring and smashed into a tree.

Gary Hanlon, son of George Hanlon of 5th Ave., LaCroft, was treated at City Hospital for cuts on the chin and lower lip.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said he was headed east on Township Line Rd. about 1½ miles east of Route 45 when his car passed over the spring.

The broken spring cut the right front tire, officers said, causing the youth to lose control of the car, which swerved off the south side and struck the tree.

A youth with Hanlon, whom the patrol could not identify, was not hurt. The auto was heavily damaged, they added.

Teacher Hired, Two Resign At Meeting Of Lisbon Board

LISBON — The Board of Education Tuesday night employed Miss Joyce Homan of Lisbon, a 1968 graduate of Kent State University, to teach an elementary grade at $5,200 a year.

Miss Homan is the daughter of Mrs. Arlene Homan, an elementary teacher at McKinley School, and did practice teaching the past year at McKinley.

The board accepted the resignations of John Vaglia, industrial arts teacher at David Anderson High School the last four years, and Miss Nancy Shattuck of Lisbon, an elementary teacher who was on leave of absence last school year to further her education.

Supt. Joe W. Driscoll said Vaglia has accepted a position in a large high school near Pittsburgh, where he lives. Miss Shattuck will teach next year at Pompano Beach, Fla.

"Biological Science," written by Gregory Goldman and published this year by Ginn & Co., was adopted as a textbook for high shool.

Board members authorized Clerk Richard Bowling to write a letter thanking the Columbiana County Automobile Club (AAA) for furnishing the dinner for the annual school bus drivers' event April 18.

With the temperature in the 80's, the board gave Driscoll authority to spend up to $300 for an air-conditioner for the administration office.

Driscoll said he will attend a meeting at 7:30 tonight in Salem Senior High School to discuss a vocational program with educators from surrounding school districts in Columbiana and Mahoning counties. The meeting was arranged by Supt. Robert Pond of Salem. Other administrators and board members invited are from Fairfield-Waterford, United, Leetonia, Columbiana, East Palestine, North Lima, Greenford, West Branch, Sebring and Western Reserve districts.

Kapp, Vodrey Enter Appeal On Money Question

Sollcitor J. Michael Kapp and his assistant, Jackman Vodrey, today mailed to Columbus the papers in which the city will ask the State Board of Tax Appeals to rule that it has a right to appropriate immediately the money anticipated from a boost in the municipal income tax and not wait until late in 1968 to allocate the funds, as the County Budget Commission contends it must do.

The appeal, made in the name of Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger as fiscal officer, was authorized Monday night in legislation approved by Council.

The city asked the budget commission in March to authorize allocation of the extra funds in the annual appropriation ordinance, enacted late that month. The commission said the city must wait to make the appropriation until the new revenue had been received.

Vodrey and Kapp expect to file briefs in support of their appeal within 15 days. The state agency may hear oral arguments from both sides before ruling.

Area Youth Hurt As Car Hits Tree Near Wellsville

A 16-year-old LaCroft youth was hurt Tuesday when his 1961 sedan went out of control on Township Line Rd. after running over a truck spring and smashed into a tree.

Gary Hanlon, son of George Hanlon of 5th Ave., LaCroft, was treated at City Hospital for cuts on the chin and lower lip.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said he was headed east on Township Line Rd. about 1½ miles east of Route 45 when his car passed over the spring.

The broken spring cut the right front tire, officers said, causing the youth to lose control of the car, which swerved off the south side and struck the tree.

A youth with Hanlon, whom the patrol could not identify, was not hurt. The auto was heavily damaged, they added.

Drowning

with another youngster, Kevin Dailey, 13, of Chester. Johnson said Dailey was unclear about the details, but finally showed police and firemen Stout's clothes and the approximate spot where he went swimming. The Dailey youth said he last had seen Stout Monday about 7 p. m., then went home.

Sixteen Chester volunteer firemen conducted the dragging operations along with volunteers from the Newell fire department, the East Liverpool Civil Defense and four scuba divers from Newell and Chester.

THE DRAGGING began about 5, after the alarm was turned in at 3:30. It took the volunteers about an hour to locate the body. Huff, who was in a boat with George Allison of the Chester volunteer department, jumped into the water, swam around the area for about 15 minutes and then located Stout's body caught on a submerged tree stump.

Johnson said the boy apparently had drowned early Monday night.

In addition to the volunteers, Lee Haney, secretary of the Chester Volunteer department, said boats were donated by Globe Refractories and the Dravo Corp. Scuba divers aiding in the search were Ron Rayburn, Bradley Rayburn and Ed Kirchner of Newell and Joe Crawford of Chester. The Pennova CB Club and the Roadrunners CB Club assisted in the search.

POLICE CHIEF Benjamin Hysong of Raccoon Township said the Pettyjohn boy was swimming with a friend, James Sullivan, 11, of Industry RD 1. He went under about 12:30 p. m. and the body was not recovered until 1:05 p. m.

The two boys were accompanied to the beach, located near Koppers off Service Creek Rd., by Robert Ahrens, 18, of Industry RD 1. The area is on a private farm.

The body was recovered in about five feet of water about 30 feet downstream from where the youth was last seen.

Carl Liller, 22, of Coraopolis and Charlotte Leach of New Brighton found the boy. Mouth-to-mouth resuscitation was applied, but to no avail.

The boy was pronounced dead on arrival at Rochester General Hospital. Beaver County Deputy Coroner Mearl Bozett ruled the death an accidental drowning.

The Schaub Funeral Home at Pittsburgh is in charge of arrangements.

City's Budget Hearing Arranged For July 5

The required public hearing on the city budget for 1969 will be held at noon Friday, July 5, in the office of Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger.

Zollinger announced the date for the hearing today and said a legal notice required by law will be published June 25.

Following the public hearing and official approval by Council, the figures will be certified to the County Budget Commission at Lisbon. The commission will determine the amounts which the city may appropriate for all its operations in the new year.

City Police Seek To Get Name Of Mysterious Girl

A mysterious blonde girl about 15 or 16, picked up Tuesday night at the Bus Terminal as a suspected runaway, has refused to give her name and address or discuss her background, East Liverpool police reported today.

Dressed in shorts and a blouse and carrying a coat, the girl was wearing one big gold earring. Officers said she carried no identification and had no money. Her only property was road maps of Maryland, Pennsylvania and Ohio, a pencil "and some other miscellaneous junk" that gave no clue to her name and address, police said.

The girl claims to be 18, but her true age probably is 15 or 16, officers said.

The girl will be referred to county juvenile authorities at Lisbon as a possible runaway and delinquent child, police said. When officers questioned her, she replied: "I have as much right in this town as anyone else" and brushed aside their queries. She was served with breakfast from a nearby restaurant, but refused to eat.

Two Autos Involved

Damage was minor in a two-car collision Tuesday at 11:04 p. m. on 6th St. Rd., Newell.

The Hancock County sheriff's office reported a car driven by Alfred L. Bayless 21, of Newell was struck from behind by a vehicle operated by Carl Ivan St. Clair, 40, of 6th St. Newell.

Bayless had slowed as he approached an intersection and St. Clair failed to stop in time, deputies said. No arrest was made.

Eight Youths Are Arraigned In Lisbon And Salem Thefts

LISBON — Two Salem youths, 14 and 15, admitted grand and petty larceny charges Tuesday in Juvenile Court and were remanded to the detention room until disposition of their cases next Tuesday.

They were among seven boys and one girl arraigned yesterday before Judge Louis Tobin in connection with a series of more than a dozen thefts. Two more boys are scheduled for arraignment Tuesday.

Salem police cleared up the thefts last Thursday. The grand larcenies were the Lisbon Methodist Church collection of $597 June 2, $150 from the Jones residence on N. Lundy St., and $90 from the Pennzoil Station at State St. and Jennings Ave., Salem.

Both boys placed in detention waived counsel. The 14-year-old admitted being in on the Methodist Church and Pennzoil thefts and 10 petty thefts including sunglasses, bottles of wine, jacket, pen, two bicycles, pants, flashlight from a car, a model and comic books. The 15-year-old said he was involved in all three grand larcenies and nine petty thefts, including $25 from the Emanuel Lutheran Church.

A 16-year-old boy who is recovering from an injury was allowed to go home with his mother after admitting charges against him. He is to return next Tuesday. He was connected with the Jones residence and Methodist church thefts and five lesser thefts.

A 15-year-old boy involved in the Jones residence and Methodist church larcenies and five lesser thefts also waived counsel, admitted the charges and was released under $500 bond pending disposition of the cases Tuesday.

The girl and a boy, both 17, said they want counsel and the judge released them on bonds of $500 and $1,000, respectively, to appear next Tuesday for arraignment.

Placed on probation after admitting charges against them were two boys, both 15, who were fined $25 each and ordered to make restitution—$10 for one and $16 for the other. One boy said he was connected with the theft of $3 from a pop machine at Southeast Plaza and got $13 that was stolen from the Methodist Church. The other boy said he was connected with the Jones home theft, the Methodist Church theft and five smaller larcenies.

The two awaiting arraignment Tuesday are a 15-year-old charged with taking a $10 watch from the Lease Drugstore and a 16-year-old accused of being connected with the theft of change from the soft drink machine at Southeast Plaza.

Trial

fied the crash occurred on Mrs. Wilson's side of the road.

Mr. Jenkins was conscious after the accident and did not want to go to the hospital. Shortly after he arrived at the City Hospital emergency room and had been checked by a doctor and nurse, he fell from the table while no one was in the room. Dr. Keith Rugh, who was on duty, said he reached the man's side within 10 seconds and could not detect a heartbeat. Efforts to revive him with oxygen and heart massage were of no avail.

Primm argued that even the doctors were not sure what caused Mr. Jenkins' death. He recalled that Dr. Rugh was of the opinion there was a severe injury to the chest and heart, while the deputy coroner, Dr. Roy C. Costello, included a fracture of the skull and a crushed chest in his report.

Primm said these conclusions were "erroneous". "The only reason to dig up Otto Jenkins was that they did not know what killed him," Primm declared. "They had a doubt — more than just a reasonable doubt!"

John B. McDonald of East Liverpool, assistant prosecuting attorney, told the jury the prosecutor's office had the body exhumed and an autopsy performed to exclude the fall from the cot as a probable cause of death. "We have proved it through medical doctors here and we have proved through an autopsy that Mr. Jenkins died of injuries from the traffic accident," McDonald said.

He held up a photograph of the pickup's windshield—broken on the passenger's side where the victim's head hit — and asked the jury to consider if that blow or the fall from the table caused his death.

McNea

was resigning, McNa denied he was withdrawing from the coaching post.

On Monday, assistant grid coaches Jim Potts, Joe Mowad and Paul Hruska resigned, apparently over the ELTA issue.

Jim Render, coach, who was granted a leave to study, wrote a letter to The Review in support of McNea and crtical of Clint McConnell, basketball coach and president of the ELTA, and others on the ELTA negotiating committee, but requested through Blair that it not be printed late yesterday. The letter was to have been printed today, but was withheld as a result of the request.

ELTA officials indicated a statement probably would be issued shortly concerning their stand on the issue.

Blair said he had received a petition from 61 football players requesting the retention of the coaching staff.

Drowning

with another youngster, Kevin Dailey, 13, of Chester. Johnson said Dailey was unclear about the details, but finally showed police and firemen Stout's clothes and the approximate spot where he went swimming. The Dailey youth said he last had seen Stout Monday about 7 p. m., then went home.

Sixteen Chester volunteer firemen conducted the dragging operations along with volunteers from the Newell fire department, the East Liverpool Civil Defense and four scuba divers from Newell and Chester.

THE DRAGGING began about 5, after the alarm was turned in at 3:30. It took the volunteers about an hour to locate the body. Huff, who was in a boat with George Allison of the Chester volunteer department, jumped into the water, swam around the area for about 15 minutes and then located Stout's body caught on a submerged tree stump.

Johnson said the boy apparently had drowned early Monday night.

In addition to the volunteers, Lee Haney, secretary of the Chester Volunteer department, said boats were donated by Globe Refractories and the Dravo Corp. Scuba divers aiding in the search were Ron Rayburn, Bradley Rayburn and Ed Kirchner of Newell and Joe Crawford of Chester. The Pennova CB Club and the Roadrunners CB Club assisted in the search.

POLICE CHIEF Benjamin Hysong of Raccoon Township said the Pettyjohn boy was swimming with a friend, James Sullivan, 11, of Industry RD 1. He went under about 12:30 p. m. and the body was not recovered until 1:05 p. m.

The two boys were accompanied to the beach, located near Koppers off Service Creek Rd., by Robert Ahrens, 18, of Industry RD 1. The area is on a private farm.

The body was recovered in about five feet of water about 30 feet downstream from where the youth was last seen.

Carl Liller, 22, of Coraopolis and Charlotte Leach of New Brighton found the boy. Mouth-to-mouth resuscitation was applied, but to no avail.

The boy was pronounced dead on arrival at Rochester General Hospital. Beaver County Deputy Coroner Mearl Bozett ruled the death an accidental drowning.

The Schaub Funeral Home at Pittsburgh is in charge of arrangements.

City's Budget Hearing Arranged For July 5

The required public hearing on the city budget for 1969 will be held at noon Friday, July 5, in the office of Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger.

Zollinger announced the date for the hearing today and said a legal notice required by law will be published June 25.

Following the public hearing and official approval by Council, the figures will be certified to the County Budget Commission at Lisbon. The commission will determine the amounts which the city may appropriate for all its operations in the new year.

City Police Seek To Get Name Of Mysterious Girl

A mysterious blonde girl about 15 or 16, picked up Tuesday night at the Bus Terminal as a suspected runaway, has refused to give her name and address or discuss her background, East Liverpool police reported today.

Dressed in shorts and a blouse and carrying a coat, the girl was wearing one big gold earring. Officers said she carried no identification and had no money. Her only property was road maps of Maryland, Pennsylvania and Ohio, a pencil "and some other miscellaneous junk" that gave no clue to her name and address, police said.

The girl claims to be 18, but her true age probably is 15 or 16, officers said.

The girl will be referred to county juvenile authorities at Lisbon as a possible runaway and delinquent child, police said. When officers questioned her, she replied: "I have as much right in this town as anyone else" and brushed aside their queries. She was served with breakfast from a nearby restaurant, but refused to eat.

Two Autos Involved

Damage was minor in a two-car collision Tuesday at 11:04 p. m. on 6th St. Rd., Newell.

The Hancock County sheriff's office reported a car driven by Alfred L. Bayless 21, of Newell was struck from behind by a vehicle operated by Carl Ivan St. Clair, 40, of 6th St. Newell.

Bayless had slowed as he approached an intersection and St. Clair failed to stop in time, deputies said. No arrest was made.

Eight Youths Are Arraigned In Lisbon And Salem Thefts

LISBON — Two Salem youths, 14 and 15, admitted grand and petty larceny charges Tuesday in Juvenile Court and were remanded to the detention room until disposition of their cases next Tuesday.

They were among seven boys and one girl arraigned yesterday before Judge Louis Tobin in connection with a series of more than a dozen thefts. Two more boys are scheduled for arraignment Tuesday.

Salem police cleared up the thefts last Thursday. The grand larcenies were the Lisbon Methodist Church collection of $597 June 2, $150 from the Jones residence on N. Lundy St., and $90 from the Pennzoil Station at State St. and Jennings Ave., Salem.

Both boys placed in detention waived counsel. The 14-year-old admitted being in on the Methodist Church and Pennzoil thefts and 10 petty thefts including sunglasses, bottles of wine, jacket, pen, two bicycles, pants, flashlight from a car, a model and comic books. The 15-year-old said he was involved in all three grand larcenies and nine petty thefts, including $25 from the Emanuel Lutheran Church.

A 16-year-old boy who is recovering from an injury was allowed to go home with his mother after admitting charges against him. He is to return next Tuesday. He was connected with the Jones residence and Methodist church thefts and five lesser thefts.

A 15-year-old boy involved in the Jones residence and Methodist church larcenies and five lesser thefts also waived counsel, admitted the charges and was released under $500 bond pending disposition of the cases Tuesday.

The girl and a boy, both 17, said they want counsel and the judge released them on bonds of $500 and $1,000, respectively, to appear next Tuesday for arraignment.

Placed on probation after admitting charges against them were two boys, both 15, who were fined $25 each and ordered to make restitution—$10 for one and $16 for the other. One boy said he was connected with the theft of $3 from a pop machine at Southeast Plaza and got $13 that was stolen from the Methodist Church. The other boy said he was connected with the Jones home theft, the Methodist Church theft and five smaller larcenies.

The two awaiting arraignment Tuesday are a 15-year-old charged with taking a $10 watch from the Lease Drugstore and a 16-year-old accused of being connected with the theft of change from the soft drink machine at Southeast Plaza.

fied the crash occurred on Mrs. Wilson's side of the road.

Mr. Jenkins was conscious after the accident and did not want to go to the hospital. Shortly after he arrived at the City Hospital emergency room and had been checked by a doctor and nurse, he fell from the table while no one was in the room. Dr. Keith Rugh, who was on duty, said he reached the man's side within 10 seconds and could not detect a heartbeat. Efforts to revive him with oxygen and heart massage were of no avail.

Primm argued that even the doctors were not sure what caused Mr. Jenkins' death. He recalled that Dr. Rugh was of the opinion there was a severe injury to the chest and heart, while the deputy coroner, Dr. Roy C. Costello, included a fracture of the skull and a crushed chest in his report.

Primm said these conclusions were "erroneous". "The only reason to dig up Otto Jenkins was that they did not know what killed him," Primm declared. "They had a doubt — more than just a reasonable doubt!"

John B. McDonald of East Liverpool, assistant prosecuting attorney, told the jury the prosecutor's office had the body exhumed and an autopsy performed to exclude the fall from the cot as a probable cause of death. "We have proved it through medical doctors here and we have proved through an autopsy that Mr. Jenkins died of injuries from the traffic accident," McDonald said.

He held up a photograph of the pickup's windshield—broken on the passenger's side where the victim's head hit — and asked the jury to consider if that blow or the fall from the table caused his death.

McNea

was resigning, McNa denied he was withdrawing from the coaching post.

On Monday, assistant grid coaches Jim Potts, Joe Mowad and Paul Hruska resigned, apparently over the ELTA issue.

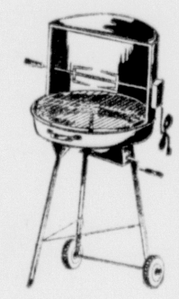

Jim Render, coach, who was granted a leave to study, wrote a letter to The Review in support of McNea and critical of Clint McConnell, basketball coach and president of the ELTA, and others on the ELTA negotiating committee, but requested through Blair that it not be printed late yesterday. The letter was to have been printed today, but was withheld as a result of the request.

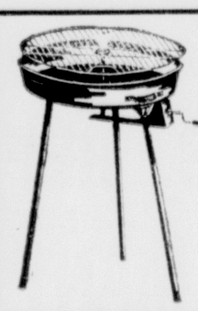

ELTA officials indicated a statement probably would be issued shortly concerning their stand on the issue.

Blair said he had received a petition from 61 football players requesting the retention of the coaching staff.

Veto Threat Hangs Over Teacher Bill

By JOHN L. TAYLOR

HARRISBURG (AP) — The threat of a possible gubernatorial veto hung over the $44.7 million teachers' salary increase bill today as the House debated a package of appropriations measures sought out by the Shafer Administration.

House Majority Leader Lee A. Donaldson, R - Allegheny, told members on both sides of the aisle that failure of the House to approve the appropriations could result in Gov. Shafer's vetoing the teachers' bill.

Donaldson noted that the appropriations were a key part of the administration's supplemental budget, through which Shafer shook loose 60 per cent of the money needed to finance the teachers' bill for the coming fiscal year.

"It is the position of the administration that passage of the supplemental budget is absolutely necessary in order to have the money to finance the teacher salary bill," Donaldson said in a floor speech Tuesday.

House Democrats, reacting angrily to the veto threat, said they would not vote for the appropriations until the administration provided further information concerning the over-all $2.08 billion budget for 1968-69.

"Actually, the bills have nothing to do with the teachers' salaries," said Minority Leader Herbert Fineman, D-Philadelphia. "The governor merely is using this as a club to get the members of the House to approve the appropriations."

The Senate-passed bills would commit the state for contractural expenditures while providing only a one-year payment of the costs, thus freeing monies for the more pressing need to raise teachers' salaries.

WHAT IS HISTOPLASMOSIS?

It is a fungus infection of the lungs contracted by breathing contaminated dust. It is more likely to be found in rural areas than in urban, since the fungus affects animals also. It tends to be a comparatively mild, but chronic, sickness. Most cases offer no serious problem.

Its danger is that it can be confused with tuberculosis and some people having it are afraid to go to a physician fearing a tuberculosis diagnosis. Never have any fear when visiting a physician. The least he can do is to help you live longer and more comfortably.

QUESTION—"Will our government ever consider operating socialized funeral homes?"

ANSWER — Several attempts have been made to introduce such legislation, but congressmen quickly agreed that American funeral customs were entirely too personal to successfully be conducted by politically controlled funeral directors, who would have no personal interest in the families served.

In Wake Of New Violence

French Government Puts Ban On Demonstrations

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle's government today banned all demonstrations in France.

The move, coming in the wake of violence in Paris and a half dozen other cities Tuesday night, was announced by the minister of information at the end of a Cabinet meeting.

Another French worker had died from injuries received in battle with police, raising the death toll in the French crisis this week to three.

The information minister, Yves Guena, said the ban on demonstrations would last for the duration of the National Assembly electoral campaign, which ends at the polls June 30.

The government also ordered the dissolution of six extreme leftist groups, including the March 22 Movement, a radical student group headed by Daniel Cohn-Bendit.

A new escalation of the crisis appeared in prospect as students rioted in Paris for the second night running, the Communists called a one-hour general strike today, and the Paris students scheduled another demonstration tonight.

Henri Blanchet, a 49-year-old worker at the Peugeot auto plant at Sochaux, in Alsace, died shortly after midnight of a fractured skull received when he fled from a police charge at the strikebound plant Monday.

Blanchet was the second worker to fall since the general strike began in mid-May in response to a student revolt at the University of Paris. Another Peugeot striker died of a bullet during the battle at Sochaux Monday, and a riot policeman was reported in "desperate condition" after being clubbed in the abdomen with an iron bar.

The spark that touched off the new student rioting was the drowning Monday of a high school student. Witnesses said the youth, along with other students, plunged into the Seine to escape a police check.

With three new "martyrs," France appeared to be in for an intensification of student and labor unrest after a brief period during which President Charles de Gaulle's government seemed to have mastered the nation's greatest postwar crisis.

The students began their protest in Paris last Tuesday night on the Right Bank but the police drove most of them back across the Seine to the Latin Quarter and Montparnasse. Using new tactics, the police continually broke the students into small groups, hurling tear gas barrages and concussion grenades heard miles away in the suburbs. There were many short, brisk clashes which left an uncounted number injured.

The Communist party newspaper Humanite blamed the death of the worker, Pierre Beylot, on "the Gaullist police."

"The government has decided to provoke the workers," said the paper. "It substitutes police intervention, bloody repression, for negotiation which could end a conflict which continues."

The Communist-led General Confederation of Workers, France's largest, called for a one-hour national strike today to protest the police action.

Beylot was shot through the lungs during clashes at the Peugeot auto works in Sochaux when the police tried to open the strike-bound plant.

Violence also shook four other provincial cities—Lyon, Nantes, St. Nazaire and Toulouse.

The worst was at Toulouse, in southwestern France. Students and other demonstrators surged through the city and at several points threw up barricades with park benches and traffic signs. The gendarmes charged the barricades, swinging clubs and throwing tear gas.

As the new violence swept parts of the nation, the government remained strangely silent, in contrast with frequent statements and warnings during the rioting in May.

But the government gave in to union demands that police move away from the strike-bound auto plats at Sochaux and at Flins, near Paris, another scene of recent sharp fighting. Without any announcement, the police drifted away, and the managers stopped any attempt to resume operations.

Upwards of a million strikers —mostly in the working and auto industries—are still demanding higher wages and other benefits.

Newell Squire Fines 3 On Traffic Counts

Three motorists were fined at hearings before Squire Lloyd Nalley of Newell.

Richard Allen Andresky of Imperial was fined $20 and costs for failure to have his vehicle under control. He was cited following a two-car collision early Saturday morning on Route 30.

Dominic Terebo of Waterford Park was fined $10 and costs for lack of West Virginia auto registration and Marvin Oren Brinley of Newell was fined $10 and costs for improper registration. Both were cited by State Police.

Shelf life of meats (now about two days) in modern supermarkets is expected to double with the introduction of new anti-bacteria cleaning techniques in meat - cutting rooms and the use of nickel stainless steel meat-handling equipment.

A collection of things that cost less than they did 10 years ago.

Your electric bill just about stands alone. Electricity actually costs less per kilowatt-hour today than ever before.

But if electricity's cheaper than ever, why is your electric bill higher?

Look around. Count the appliances you didn't use ten years ago. Electric power is giving you a better, happier life. So even though rates are lower, your bill is up because you use more.

Considering today's prices, electricity has to be the biggest bargain around. And our whole seven-state system keeps working hard to make it even more of a bargain. Think about that next time you hear us say . . .

Electricity is your best dollar value.

In Wake Of New Violence

French Government Puts Ban On Demonstrations

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle's government today banned all demonstrations in France.

The move, coming in the wake of violence in Paris and a half dozen other cities Tuesday night, was announced by the minister of information at the end of a Cabinet meeting.

Another French worker had died from injuries received in battle with police, raising the death toll in the French crisis this week to three.

The information minister, Yves Guena, said the ban on demonstrations would last for the duration of the National Assembly electoral campaign, which ends at the polls June 30.

The government also ordered the dissolution of six extreme leftist groups, including the March 22 Movement, a radical student group headed by Daniel Cohn-Bendit.

A new escalation of the crisis appeared in prospect as students rioted in Paris for the second night running, the Communists called a one-hour general strike today, and the Paris students scheduled another demonstration tonight.

Henri Blanchet, a 49-year-old worker at the Peugeot auto plant at Sochaux, in Alsace, died shortly after midnight of a fractured skull received when he fled from a police charge at the strikebound plant Monday.

Blanchet was the second worker to fall since the general strike began in mid-May in response to a student revolt at the University of Paris. Another Peugeot striker died of a bullet during the battle at Sochaux Monday, and a riot policeman was reported in "desperate condition" after being clubbed in the abdomen with an iron bar.

The spark that touched off the new student rioting was the drowning Monday of a high school student. Witnesses said the youth, along with other students, plunged into the Seine to escape a police check.

With three new "martyrs," France appeared to be in for an intensification of student and labor unrest after a brief period during which President Charles de Gaulle's government seemed to have mastered the nation's greatest postwar crisis.

The students began their protest in Paris last Tuesday night on the Right Bank but the police drove most of them back across the Seine to the Latin Quarter and Montparnasse. Using new tactics, the police continually broke the students into small groups, hurling tear gas barrages and concussion grenades heard miles away in the suburbs. There were many short, brisk clashes which left an uncounted number injured.

The Communist party newspaper Humanite blamed the death of the worker, Pierre Beylot, on "the Gaullist police."

"The government has decided to provoke the workers," said the paper. "It substitutes police intervention, bloody repression, for negotiation which could end a conflict which continues."

The Communist-led General Confederation of Workers, France's largest, called for a one-hour national strike today to protest the police action.

Beylot was shot through the lungs during clashes at the Peugeot auto works in Sochaux when the police tried to open the strike-bound plant.

Violence also shook four other provincial cities—Lyon, Nantes, St. Nazaire and Toulouse.

The worst was at Toulouse, in southwestern France. Students and other demonstrators surged through the city and at several points threw up barricades with park benches and traffic signs. The gendarmes charged the barricades, swinging clubs and throwing tear gas.

As the new violence swept parts of the nation, the government remained strangely silent, in contrast with frequent statements and warnings during the rioting in May.

But the government gave in to union demands that police move away from the strike-bound auto plats at Sochaux and at Flins, near Paris, another scene of recent sharp fighting. Without any announcement, the police drifted away, and the managers stopped any attempt to resume operations.

Upwards of a million strikers —mostly in the working and auto industries—are still demanding higher wages and other benefits.

Newell Squire Fines 3 On Traffic Counts

Three motorists were fined at hearings before Squire Lloyd Nalley of Newell.

Richard Allen Andresky of Imperial was fined $20 and costs for failure to have his vehicle under control. He was cited following a two-car collision early Saturday morning on Route 30.

Dominic Terebo of Waterford Park was fined $10 and costs for lack of West Virginia auto registration and Marvin Oren Brinley of Newell was fined $10 and costs for improper registration. Both were cited by State Police.

Shelf life of meats (now about two days) in modern supermarkets is expected to double with the introduction of new anti-bacteria cleaning techniques in meat - cutting rooms and the use of nickel stainless steel meat-handling equipment.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

How To Beat Summer's Re-Runs

How to lick the boredom of summer TV repeats is a problem, but a friend of mine has stumbled on to an answer. He just moved into a new apartment building with a closed - circuit security channel which has a minicamera trained on the front door.

Hal Humphrey

By tuning in this channel on your regular TV set you get a perfect view of the door, which operates on a buzzer to release it, and the vestibule. If you don't care to put up with the visitor you see ringing your bell, you just pretend not to be home and don't release the door lock.

-:-

BUT THE REAL SPORT, says my friend, is to tune in and watch and listen to the neighbors' friends (there's a phone on the door, too) who come to the door.

"You see some real domestic dramas, better than 'Peyton Place'," he reports. "A husband forgot his key, but his wife wanted to know, over the phone, where he'd been so late. They got into a good argument before she rang the buzzer. I hadn't seen anything on TV as good as this for a long time."

A few of the tenants have friends who are real hams. After ringing, they stand there knowing the camera is on them and wiggle their ears or otherwise go into some pantomime to amuse whomever is tuned in.

"WHAT'S SO fascinating about all of this is that it's live," points out my friend "and you're looking at real people. It's 'Naked City' all over again."

The other night my friend and his wife wearied of all the commercials interrupting an old movie they were watching, tuned into the closed-circuit channel and soon were rewarded with a tense conversation between a boy friend (downstairs on camera) trying to persuade his lady love to let him in.

"You've been drinking," she said, accusingly.

"No, I haven't," he argued.

"Yes, you have, I can see that glazed look in your eyes," she replied, "and you're weaving."

NO AMOUNT of cajoling on his part could get her to let him in, so he finally stuck out his tongue at the camera (concealed in the ceiling) and toddled off. It was such a touching scene that my friend was sorely tempted to push the talk button in his apartment and say to the gal, "Oh, go ahead, let him in," but he refrained.

"After all," as he says, "this TV on the door is a security measure primarily, and one gets an ominous feeling when eavesdropping. The days of the old friendly hacienda in the pueblo are definitely gone forever, I'm afraid."

Another friend who lives in an even bigger apartment complex equipped with a closed-circuit channel was surprised recently to find in his mailbox an announcement that there would be a special showing that night on the house circuit of the movie "Georgy Girl."

"UNFORTUNATELY, I had to go out, but I found later that a questionnaire about the commercials during the movie was given to those seeing it, and you were paid $3 if you filled it out. Here I hadn't seen the movie either, and I could have picked up three bucks besides."

I checked with the management at my friend's apartment, and discovered this was a private TV survey outfit, which is allowed to conduct such an experiment in a given apartment only once. I suppose the FCC has something to do with it, otherwise the networks would be up in arms about such a form of pay-off TV.

Anyway, as you can see, summer TV for some lucky people isn't so bad, provided you're holed up in the right apartment building. In fact, I'm planning to go over to my first friend's place quite often this summer to watch the front door traffic — that is, if he doesn't get tired of me and refuse to answer when he sees it's me at the door again.

Thieves Take Lunch Break, But Little Else

Intruders took a lunch break, but little else, in a burglary of an East End home Tuesday, police reported.

The burglars munched on a freshly - baked cake which they found on the kitchen table after forcing entry to the home of Mrs. Mabel Whitney of 1362 Pennsylvania Ave. They apparently were frightened away as Mrs. Whitney returned home early in the afternoon, officers said.

Mrs. Whitney later discovered a woman's watch had been stolen. The intruders entered between 6 a.m. and 12:05 p.m. by breaking two panes of jalousie glass and tearing the screen from a door giving access to the kitchen. Drawers had been opened in a desk in the livingroom.

Mrs. Whitney said she heard noises inside the house as she approached and then heard the sound of the intruders running from the home to the alley at the rear.

Meanwhile, Thomas Blankenship of 614 Grove Alley reported to police his home was entered in his absence Tuesday night between 7 and 9:45, but apparently nothing was missing. The intruders ransacked the home after gaining entry by breaking a window on the east side of the home.

Jerry Rose of 925 Ohio Ave. told police Tuesday a thief took a flashlight and some papers in ransacking the glove compartment of his 1962 model auto while it was parked near his home early yesterday.

Robert Ankrom of 2201 Harvey Ave., who reported theft of a six - shot .22-caliber pistol from his home Monday, said the thief returned it Tuesday. The pistol was found on a porch at Ankrom's home, where it apparently had been placed by the thief, officers said. The gun was taken from a closet in Ankrom's bedroom.

Rice of Lisbon, who attended Mansfield State College in Pennsylvania and the Kent State Academic Center at Salem, and Donald Oesch of New Springfield, a graduate of Youngstown now attending Temple University, Philadelphia.

The board accepted the resignations of Richard Herr, principal at Unity, and Clifford Reynolds, fourth - grade instructor at Unity, who plans to teach at Beaver.

Edgar M. Hoopes resigned as athletic director, but will continue to teach mathematics at the high school.

'Cookout' Marks Ruritan Meeting

A cookout and coverdish dinner featured the "Ladies Night" meeting of the Liverpool - Calcutta Ruritan Club Monday at Theodore Appleby's farm in Scotch Settlement. Thirty were present.

Plans were made for another trip in July by chartered bus to the Warren playhouse.

A high school graduation gift was presented Mrs. Mike McFarland for her son Daniel, who was unable to attend. His father is a club member.

The club voted a donation toward the expenses of the Recreation Council.

Guests included Lowell Whinery, district governor; Howard McClelland, zone governor, and Ray Unger.

The next meeting will be July 8 at the Yellow Creek United Presbyterian Church.

Jockey Injured As Horse Falls

Veteran Jockey Lanny Kress was treated at Weirton General Hospital Tuesday night following a spectacular two-horse spill in the second race at Waterford Park.

Wilbert Galley, a young apprentice rider, also was involved in the incident, but was only shaken up.

Kress' mount, Namua, clipped the heels of Ne'er Jr. moving into the far turn and fell heavily to the track, throwing Kress over his head.

Galley, who was trailing the field aboard Star Flint, saw the mishap and tried to pull up his horse. Star Flint stumbled as she came to a sudden halt, and Galley was thrown some 20 feet through the air.

'Playrites' Productions

Three Performances Set By Area Theater Group

The tragic results of an attempt to adapt to society's standards and conform to its laws are portrayed in Edward Albee's "Amerian Dream" to be presented Thursday through Saturday at 8:30 p.m. by the Ceramic Playrites.

The one-act play, one of two to be performed in the Liberty Theater at Wellsville, features a cast of five, including Ruth Boston, Robert Lackner, Burdise Graham, Barbara Kinsey and Harold Taggart.

The play develops around a kaleidoscope of events drawn from the past, present and future manifesting themselves during a one-day period in the lives of the characters in a style similar to that of James Joyce and Virginia Woolfe.

In the play, Albee presents a more lucid sequel to his best seller "Who's Afriad of Virginia Woolfe." He delves into the social problems of America and with satire, bringing them to audience for new interpretation.

The second play of the evening will be "A Resounding Tinkle" by N. F. Simpson. The cast includes Mike Grimes, Frances Leon and Sue Smith.

The play has the main characters, the Paradocks, faced with naming an over-sized elephant and disconcerted about a sex change which his turned "Uncle Ted" into a female.

Local, Wellsville Elks Will Observe Flag Day

Judge Louis Tobin will speak when East Liverpool and Wellsville Elks lodges hold their annual joint Flag Day services Friday night at 7:30 at the home on W. 5th St.

The judge, who heads the Columbiana County Probate and Juvenile Courts, has been a member of the lodge here for more than 34 years.

—:—

THE CEREMONY will be held on the front porch of the lodge, with chairs to be provided on the street for the audience. In case of rain, the exercises will be held in the ball room.

The East Liverpool High School Band, directed by Donald Adams, will play four selections.

Russell Turner, exalted ruler, and other officers of the East Liverpool lodge will conduct the introductory exercises.

William Williams, leading knight of the Wellsville lodge, will present the history of the flag and Boy Scouts will display the six flags used at various times in the history of the U.S. Leading Knight Robert E. Taylor of the East Liverpool lodge will give the response to the history of the flag.

Exalted Ruler William F. Bratt of the Wellsville lodge will lead the pledge of allegiance and Turner will conduct the closing exercise.

THE IDEA of a Flag Day service was first brought up during the Grand Lodge session in 1907 at Philadelphia. The June 14 date was adpted and called "Elks Flag Day." The following year at Dallas, Tex., the Grand Lodge approved the ritual for the Flag Day ceremony. In 1911, when it met at Atlantic City, it was made mandatory for each subordinate lodge to hold a service known as Flag Day "in the manner prescribed by the ritual of the order. At Atlantic City in 1930, permission was granted "for good cause to hold this service on a different day and also for two or more lodges to hold such services jointly." For the last 38 years, East Liverpool and Wellsville lodges have conducted such joint services.

The exercises are open to the public. Elks officials urge all to display the flag Friday.

Way Eyed To Offset Red Travel Curbs To Berlin

BONN (AP) — Representatives of the United States, West Germany, Britain and France are seeking ways to counter new restrictions placed by Communist East Germany on West Germans traveling to Berlin.

Some West German commentators called the East German action the most serious threat to access to West Berlin since the 11-month Berlin Blockade by the Russians in 1948-49.

East Germany announced Tuesday night it will require West Germans for the first time to have passports and visas for train, road and water travel between West Germany and Communist-surrounded West Berlin.

The regulations appeared to be a new assertion of East German sovereignty and of the Communist regime's defiance of the Bonn governments claim that it is the only representative German government.

The East Germans also announced hikes in overland transit fees and freight taxes.

There was no indication of interference with official traffic of the three Western allies, which is controlled by the Russians as the other occupation power, or with air traffic to West Berlin, which is controlled by the occupation powers.

A meeting of U.S., West German, British and French representatives in the American Embassy lasted until 1 a.m. today. An anticipated joint allied protest to the Soviet Union was not announced.

Up to now, West Germans going to West Berlin by surface routes have traveled on their West German identity cards.

ADN, the official East German news agency, said the West Germans would have until July 15 to get passports.

Increases in transit fees become effective June 20 and freight taxes on July 1, ADN said.

Visiting U.S. Undersecretary of State Eugene Rostow called the East German action "a serious situation" and said such a change from the present pattern cannot be tolerated."

The East Germans said the new regulations were necessary because of neo-Nazism and revenge-seeking in West Germany and because of the passage of the new state of emergency laws in West Germany.

Cleveland Plants Of Alcoa Struck

CLEVELAND (AP) — About 100 skilled workers who were ordered back to work at Aluminum Company of America plants here Tuesday by the United Auto Workers Union International Executive Board went on strike Tuesday night. They are members of UAW Local 1050.

The plants in Cuyahoga Heights and Newburgh Heights employ 1,900 production workers and 400 skilled workers. The production workers approved the new national three - year contract with Alcoa, but skilled workers rejected it.

Some 2,000 skilled and production workers at Alcoa plants in Chicago, Los Angeles and Edison, N.J., ratified the contract, but the rejection by skilled workers here vetoed the agreement. The matter then went to the international's executive board which had final say.

A spokesman for the skilled workers said they were determined to stay out until they get an agreement htat provides for higher differential pay for certain jobs that require more skill.

Closing Talks Set Today In Spock's Trial

By WILLIAM F. NICHOLSON
Associated Press Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Testimony has ended in the trial of Dr. Benjamin Spock and four other men charged with conspiring to aid, abet and counsel young men to avoid the draft.

The pediatrician ended his second day on the witness stand Tuesday with a denial that he ever attempted to persuade young men to resist the draft, but said he was "glad and delighted" when they did.

Closing arguments by defense and prosecution begin today. A final charge by U.S. District Judge Francis J. W. Ford remains before the all-male jury receives the case.

On trial with the 65-year-old Spock is Yale Chaplain William Sloane Coffin Jr., 43; Michael Ferber, 23, a Harvard graduate student; Mitchell Goodman, 44, a writer and teacher from Temple, Maine; and Marcus Raskin, 34, a Washington research director.

They face maximum sentences of five-year prison terms and $10,000 fines if convicted of the conspiracy charges.

The defense rested when Spock left the witness stand after 16 days of testimony by both sides. The defendants were indicted Jan. 8 and trial began May 20.

Prosecution and defense lawyers said they hoped the jury could receive the case before the weekend.

LEETONIA — The local Ruritan Club served a chicken barbecue supper to 35 members and 57 guests Tuesday evening in Fellowship Hall at St. Jacob's United Church of Christ.

Speaker for the annual father-son event was Ivan (Ike) Farrah, assistant principal at Louisville High School and football coach at Leetonia High School from 1960-62.

Lowell Whinery of Salem, Ohio district governor, attended. The Rev. William V. Ring of St. Jacob's, club president, was in charge.

How To Beat Summer's Re-Runs

How to lick the boredom of summer TV repeats is a problem, but a friend of mine has stumbled on to an answer. He just moved into a new apartment building with a closed - circuit security channel which has a minicamera trained on the front door.

Hal Humphrey

By tuning in this channel on your regular TV set you get a perfect view of the door, which operates on a buzzer to release it, and the vestibule. If you don't care to put up with the visitor you see ringing your bell, you just pretend not to be home and don't release the door lock.

-:-

BUT THE REAL SPORT, says my friend, is to tune in and watch and listen to the neighbors' friends (there's a phone on the door, too) who come to the door.

"You see some real domestic dramas, better than 'Peyton Place'," he reports. "A husband forgot his key, but his wife wanted to know, over the phone, where he'd been so late. They got into a good argument before she rang the buzzer. I hadn't seen anything on TV as good as this for a long time."

A few of the tenants have friends who are real hams. After ringing, they stand there knowing the camera is on them and wiggle their ears or otherwise go into some pantomime to amuse whomever is tuned in.

"WHAT'S SO fascinating about all of this is that it's live," points out my friend "and you're looking at real people. It's 'Naked City' all over again."

The other night my friend and his wife wearied of all the commercials interrupting an old movie they were watching, tuned into the closed-circuit channel and soon were rewarded with a tense conversation between a boy friend (downstairs on camera) trying to persuade his lady love to let him in.

"You've been drinking," she said, accusingly.

"No, I haven't," he argued.

"Yes, you have, I can see that glazed look in your eyes," she replied, "and you're weaving."

NO AMOUNT of cajoling on his part could get her to let him in, so he finally stuck out his tongue at the camera (concealed in the ceiling) and toddled off. It was such a touching scene that my friend was sorely tempted to push the talk button in his apartment and say to the gal, "Oh, go ahead, let him in," but he refrained.

"After all," as he says, "this TV on the door is a security measure primarily, and one gets an ominous feeling when eavesdropping. The days of the old friendly hacienda in the pueblo are definitely gone forever, I'm afraid."

Another friend who lives in an even bigger apartment complex equipped with a closed-circuit channel was surprised recently to find in his mailbox an announcement that there would be a special showing that night on the house circuit of the movie "Georgy Girl."

"UNFORTUNATELY, I had to go out, but I found later that a questionnaire about the commercials during the movie was given to those seeing it, and you were paid $3 if you filled it out. Here I hadn't seen the movie either, and I could have picked up three bucks besides."

I checked with the management at my friend's apartment, and discovered this was a private TV survey outfit, which is allowed to conduct such an experiment in a given apartment only once. I suppose the FCC has something to do with it, otherwise the networks would be up in arms about such a form of pay-off TV.

Anyway, as you can see, summer TV for some lucky people isn't so bad, provided you're holed up in the right apartment building. In fact, I'm planning to go over to my first friend's place quite often this summer to watch the front door traffic — that is, if he doesn't get tired of me and refuse to answer when he sees it's me at the door again.

Thieves Take Lunch Break, But Little Else

Intruders took a lunch break, but little else, in a burglary of an East End home Tuesday, police reported.

The burglars munched on a freshly - baked cake which they found on the kitchen table after forcing entry to the home of Mrs. Mabel Whitney of 1362 Pennsylvania Ave. They apparently were frightened away as Mrs. Whitney returned home early in the afternoon, officers said.

Mrs. Whitney later discovered a woman's watch had been stolen. The intruders entered between 6 a.m. and 12:05 p.m. by breaking two panes of jalousie glass and tearing the screen from a door giving access to the kitchen. Drawers had been opened in a desk in the livingroom.

Mrs. Whitney said she heard noises inside the house as she approached and then heard the sound of the intruders running from the home to the alley at the rear.

Meanwhile, Thomas Blankenship of 614 Grove Alley reported to police his home was entered in his absence Tuesday night between 7 and 9:45, but apparently nothing was missing. The intruders ransacked the home after gaining entry by breaking a window on the east side of the home.

Jerry Rose of 925 Ohio Ave. told police Tuesday a thief took a flashlight and some papers in ransacking the glove compartment of his 1962 model auto while it was parked near his home early yesterday.

Robert Ankrom of 2201 Harvey Ave., who reported theft of a six - shot .22-caliber pistol from his home Monday, said the thief returned it Tuesday. The pistol was found on a porch at Ankrom's home, where it apparently had been placed by the thief, officers said. The gun was taken from a closet in Ankrom's bedroom.

Edgar M. Hoopes resigned as athletic director, but will continue to teach mathematics at the high school.

The club voted a donation toward the expenses of the Recreation Council.

Jockey Injured As Horse Falls

Veteran Jockey Lanny Kress was treated at Weirton General Hospital Tuesday night following a spectacular two-horse spill in the second race at Waterford Park.

Wilbert Galley, a young apprentice rider, also was involved in the incident, but was only shaken up.

Kress' mount, Namua, clipped the heels of Ne'er Jr. moving into the far turn and fell heavily to the track, throwing Kress over his head.

Galley, who was trailing the field aboard Star Flint, saw the mishap and tried to pull up his horse. Star Flint stumbled as she came to a sudden halt, and Galley was thrown some 20 feet through the air.

'Playrites' Productions

Three Performances Set By Area Theater Group

The tragic results of an attempt to adapt to society's standards and conform to its laws are portrayed in Edward Albee's "Amerian Dream" to be presented Thursday through Saturday at 8:30 p.m. by the Ceramic Playrites.

The one-act play, one of two to be performed in the Liberty Theater at Wellsville, features a cast of five, including Ruth Boston, Robert Lackner, Burdise Graham, Barbara Kinsey and Harold Taggart.

The play develops around a kaleidoscope of events drawn from the past, present and future manifesting themselves during a one-day period in the lives of the characters in a style similar to that of James Joyce and Virginia Woolfe.

In the play, Albee presents a more lucid sequel to his best seller "Who's Afriad of Virginia Woolfe." He delves into the social problems of America and with satire, bringing them to audience for new interpretation.

The second play of the evening will be "A Resounding Tinkle" by N. F. Simpson. The cast includes Mike Grimes, Frances Leon and Sue Smith.

The play has the main characters, the Paradocks, faced with naming an over-sized elephant and disconcerted about a sex change which his turned "Uncle Ted" into a female.

Local, Wellsville Elks Will Observe Flag Day

Judge Louis Tobin will speak when East Liverpool and Wellsville Elks lodges hold their annual joint Flag Day services Friday night at 7:30 at the home on W. 5th St.

The judge, who heads the Columbiana County Probate and Juvenile Courts, has been a member of the lodge here for more than 34 years.

-:-

THE CEREMONY will be held on the front porch of the lodge, with chairs to be provided on the street for the audience. In case of rain, the exercises will be held in the ball room.

The East Liverpool High School Band, directed by Donald Adams, will play four selections.

Russell Turner, exalted ruler, and other officers of the East Liverpool lodge will conduct the introductory exercises.

William Williams, leading knight of the Wellsville lodge, will present the history of the flag and Boy Scouts will display the six flags used at various times in the history of the U.S. Leading Knight Robert E. Taylor of the East Liverpool lodge will give the response to the history of the flag.

Exalted Ruler William F. Bratt of the Wellsville lodge will lead the pledge of allegiance and Turner will conduct the closing exercise.

-:-

THE IDEA of a Flag Day service was first brought up during the Grand Lodge session in 1907 at Philadelphia. The June 14 date was adpted and called "Elks Flag Day." The following year at Dallas, Tex., the Grand Lodge approved the ritual for the Flag Day ceremony. In 1911, when it met at Atlantic City, it was made mandatory for each subordinate lodge to hold a service known as Flag Day "in the manner prescribed by the ritual of the order. At Atlantic City in 1930, permission was granted "for good cause to hold this service on a different day and also for two or more lodges to hold such services jointly." For the last 38 years, East Liverpool and Wellsville lodges have conducted such joint services.

The exercises are open to the public. Elks officials urge all to display the flag Friday.

Way Eyed To Offset Red Travel Curbs To Berlin

BONN (AP) — Representatives of the United States, West Germany, Britain and France are seeking ways to counter new restrictions placed by Communist East Germany on West Germans traveling to Berlin.

Some West German commentators called the East German action the most serious threat to access to West Berlin since the 11-month Berlin Blockade by the Russians in 1948-49.

East Germany announced Tuesday night it will require West Germans for the first time to have passports and visas for train, road and water travel between West Germany and Communist-surrounded West Berlin.

The regulations appeared to be a new assertion of East German sovereignty and of the Communist regime's defiance of the Bonn governments claim that it is the only representative German government.

The East Germans also announced hikes in overland transit fees and freight taxes.

There was no indication of interference with official traffic of the three Western allies, which is controlled by the Russians as the other occupation power, or with air traffic to West Berlin, which is controlled by the occupation powers.

A meeting of U.S., West German, British and French representatives in the American Embassy lasted until 1 a.m. today. An anticipated joint allied protest to the Soviet Union was not announced.

Up to now, West Germans going to West Berlin by surface routes have traveled on their West German identity cards.

ADN, the official East German news agency, said the West Germans would have until July 15 to get passports.

Increases in transit fees become effective June 20 and freight taxes on July 1, ADN said.

Visiting U.S. Undersecretary of State Eugene Rostow called the East German action "a serious situation" and said such a change from the present pattern cannot be tolerated."

The East Germans said the new regulations were necessary because of neo-Nazism and revenge-seeking in West Germany and because of the passage of the new state of emergency laws in West Germany.

Cleveland Plants Of Alcoa Struck

CLEVELAND (AP) — About 100 skilled workers who were ordered back to work at Aluminum Company of America plants here Tuesday by the United Auto Workers Union International Executive Board went on strike Tuesday night. They are members of UAW Local 1050.

The plants in Cuyahoga Heights and Newburgh Heights employ 1,900 production workers and 400 skilled workers. The production workers approved the new national three - year contract with Alcoa, but skilled workers rejected it.

Some 2,000 skilled and production workers at Alcoa plants in Chicago, Los Angeles and Edison, N.J., ratified the contract, but the rejection by skilled workers here vetoed the agreement. The matter then went to the international's executive board which had final say.

A spokesman for the skilled workers said they were determined to stay out until they get an agreement htat provides for higher differential pay for certain jobs that require more skill.

Closing Talks Set Today In Spock's Trial

By WILLIAM F. NICHOLSON
Associated Press Writer

BOSTON (AP) — Testimony has ended in the trial of Dr. Benjamin Spock and four other men charged with conspiring to aid, abet and counsel young men to avoid the draft.

The pediatrician ended his second day on the witness stand Tuesday with a denial that he ever attempted to persuade young men to resist the draft, but said he was "glad and delighted" when they did.

Closing arguments by defense and prosecution begin today. A final charge by U.S. District Judge Francis J. W. Ford remains before the all-male jury receives the case.

On trial with the 65-year-old Spock is Yale Chaplain William Sloane Coffin Jr., 43; Michael Ferber, 23, a Harvard graduate student; Mitchell Goodman, 44, a writer and teacher from Temple, Maine; and Marcus Raskin, 34, a Washington research director.

They face maximum sentences of five-year prison terms and $10,000 fines if convicted of the conspiracy charges.

The defense rested when Spock left the witness stand after 16 days of testimony by both sides. The defendants were indicted Jan. 8 and trial began May 20.

Prosecution and defense lawyers said they hoped the jury could receive the case before the weekend.

'Near Approach' Slated Friday By Asteroid Icarus

The asteroid Icarus will make a rare, near approach to the earth Friday, according to the Buhl Planetarium and Institute at Pittsburgh.

As it travels in its long, elliptical orbit about the sun, Icarus will swing to within 3,950,000 miles of the eearth.

This asteroid, or minor planet, is less than a mile in diameter. Of the thousands of asteroids known to exist, the largest is about 500 miles in diameter. Most are much smaller, and have aptly been called "flying mountains."

The paths of most of these small bodies lie between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter. Icarus, however, has an extremely unusual path. For one thing, it travels closest to the sun of all known asteroids — much closer even than Mercury, which is the closest of the major planets to the sun. Icarus also is unusual in that on occasion it passes near the earth, as it is doing this month. It is not visible to the unaided eye, even at closest approach, because of its very small size.

When the United States entered World War I, it had only 103 planes in its air arm, none suitable for combat, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

'Near Approach' Slated Friday By Asteroid Icarus

The asteroid Icarus will make a rare, near approach to the earth Friday, according to the Buhl Planetarium and Institute at Pittsburgh.

As it travels in its long, elliptical orbit about the sun, Icarus will swing to within 3,950,000 miles of the eearth.

This asteroid, or minor planet, is less than a mile in diameter. Of the thousands of asteroids known to exist, the largest is about 500 miles in diameter. Most are much smaller, and have aptly been called "flying mountains."

The paths of most of these small bodies lie between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter. Icarus, however, has an extremely unusual path. For one thing, it travels closest to the sun of all known asteroids — much closer even than Mercury, which is the closest of the major planets to the sun. Icarus also is unusual in that on occasion it passes near the earth, as it is doing this month. It is not visible to the unaided eye, even at closest approach, because of its very small size.

When the United States entered World War I, it had only 103 planes in its air arm, none suitable for combat, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Plastic Camera Hazard

HINTS FROM HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: We just returned from our vacation and before I even unpack my suitcase, I want to tell you about an experience we had.

Heloise

Our four children each had an inexpensive plastic camera with which to record their trip. At one point in our tour — and on an especially hot, sunny day — we spent over an hour in a restaurant.

When we returned to the car, I wish you could have seen those plastic cameras! They had been left in the back window of the car and were no longer even recognizable. Truly, all four had MELTED and become pieces of twisted, warped-looking plastic. The children were heartbroken.

So please tell those who own plastic cameras (or anything else plastic for that matter), to be sure and keep them out of the sunny parts of the car.

VACATIONER.

You are right about some plastic items will melt sure as shootin'. So, folks, do try to remember to keep them out of that back window which can become so very hot . . .

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I have three young children and when I had to put shoes on them, it was very difficult because they curled their toes.

A shoe salesman told me to cup my hand around their knee and rub the sides very gently and their foot would relax immediately. I did and it worked — their shoes slide right on.

ELSIE.

DEAR HELOISE: Could you tell me what kind of sandwiches can be made and frozen ahead of time for a wedding? I know you can freeze bread, but what fillings can be frozen and still be nice and fresh when thawed?

MRS. R. MADDOX.

How about it? Perhaps some of you have recently helped with a wedding reception and can give us some tips.

We sure would love to hear from you. Just drop your sweet notes to me in care of this paper.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Before throwing your panty hose away because of runs, remove the elastic band from the top and use it in skirt or slack tops.

Works just fine.

MARTHA SHOCKEY.

DEAR HELOISE: We are an older couple without children so our laundry isn't large enough to require sorting into baskets or bags. But to make it easier when ironing, I place all my ironed pieces on a large serving or lap tray so that when I'm finished, I just carry them upstairs.

Naturally, I have the sheets and towels on the bottom and my husband's and my clothing sorted on top so it's very easy to put things away.

CHARLOTTE STOVE.

Well, for goodness sake! Mothers with large families could use this idea, too. One tray for each person, bedroom or closet.

Thanks, Charlotte.

Heloise.

DEAR HELOISE: If you have embroidery hoops that no longer grip the material you are stitching, cut one-inch-wide strips of nylon net and wind the smaller hoop with the net until it fits snugly into the larger hoop.

Sure saves a pair of hoops.

MRS. B. MARTIN.

Gains Noted For Nixon In Illinois, S. Carolina

By The Associated Press

Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon has gained a sizeable block of Illinois delegates in Illinois and South Carolina primaries that nominated a host of incumbent congressmen for re-election.

Texas party conventions, meanwhile Tuesday, gave Democratic Gov. John Connally and Republican Sen. John G. Tower favorite son control over the state's national convention delegates.

Connally has not committed himself but is believed to favor Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey. Most of the GOP delegates were reported leaning toward Nixon.

Nixon won at least 27 of the 48 Illinois delegate seats at stake Tuesday. On the Democratic side, Humphrey won at least 3 of the 48, and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy at least one with 28 other winners listed as uncommitted.

A major exception to the general renomination of incumbent congressmen was Rep. Barratt O'Hara, D-Ill.—at 86 the oldest man in the House—who lost to former state Rep. Abner Mikva of Chicago.

But Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois coasted to renomination for a fourth term. Five incumbent representatives including O'Hara had opposition and the other four were nominated for re-election. Another 19 incumbents were unopposed.

In the South Carolina Democratic primary, incumbent Sen. Ernest F. Hollings defeated challenger John Bolt Culbertson of Greenville for renomination and veteran Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, seeking re-election defeated George A. Payton, a Negro lawyer in Charleston.

In other political developments:

—McCarthy met with newsmen to outline the direction his campaign will take in an effort to win delegate votes for the Democratic presidential nomination.

—New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockfeller in a nationwide television address, promised new leadership and blamed "the failure and the blindness of the old politics" for continuing crises in America.

—Third party presidential candidate George Wallace got a roaring reception in Memphis, Tenn., as he fired away at a host of targets including Republicans, Democrats and the Supreme Court.

—Humphrey relaxed at his Waverly, Minn., home and there were reports—which aides would not confirm—that he does not plan to resume campaigning until after the New York primary June 18.

—Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., announced he will not seek Illinois' GOP favorite son designation. He said most Illinois Republican delegates have decided who they favor for president and should not be tied to him as a favorite son at the national convention.

Mrs. Exley represented the club at the Citizens Scholarship Tuesday night in St. Aloysius School hall.

Mrs. Margaret Locke reported on the souvenirs to be sold during the Pottery Festival. They will feature a decal prepared by Hans Hacker, local artist.

Miss Ladzinske distributed circulars concerning the fall conference Sept. 27-29 at Cleveland.

The annual contribution to the Kent State Speech and Hearing Scholarship Fund will be mailed so that grants may be set up.

The group will meet June 25 with Mrs. Hays of Smithfield St. Mrs. Janet Powell Colaizzi, educational director at City Hospital, will be the speaker.

Rotarians Honor Students, Hear Talk By Attorney

Three area honor students were recognized and slides of South America were screened during the Rotary luncheon Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel.

Plaques were presented to valedictorians Cynthia Cairns of Beaver Local, Victoria Macek of Oak Glen and Mac Ogilvie of East Liverpool.

Charles Lang, chairman of the youth service committee, praised the students for their accomplishments.

The program was presented by John Bauknecht, an East Palestine lawyer, who discussed a recent visit to South America.

Bauknecht said one of the most tragic situations he encountered during his tour was the devaluation of currency. Brazilian currency has dropped to about one-thousandth of its value of the previous decade, he pointed out.

Harold Barth, secretary, was welcomed back following a recent confinement at City Hospital.

Rotarians Honor Students, Hear Talk By Attorney

Three area honor students were recognized and slides of South America were screened during the Rotary luncheon Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel.

Plaques were presented to valedictorians Cynthia Cairns of Beaver Local, Victoria Macek of Oak Glen and Mac Ogilvie of East Liverpool.

Charles Lang, chairman of the youth service committee, praised the students for their accomplishments.

The program was presented by John Bauknecht, an East Palestine lawyer, who discussed a recent visit to South America.

Bauknecht said one of the most tragic situations he encountered during his tour was the devaluation of currency. Brazilian currency has dropped to about one-thousandth of its value of the previous decade, he pointed out.

Harold Barth, secretary, was welcomed back following a recent confinement at City Hospital.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt

Avoid Prickly Heat

Q—How can you prevent a bed patient from getting a heat rash? What is the best treatment for it?

Dr. Brandstadt

A—Heat rash or prickly heat is prevented by using a minimum of cover, using an air conditioner or electric fan in the sick room, shifting the patient so that all areas of his body are given a chance to cool, frequent sponge baths using little or no soap and by avoiding the use of antiperspirant deodorant preparations and bath powders because they block the pores and favor the development of a heat rash.

IF PRICKLY heat does occur, you should intensify the preventive measures and give sponge baths with a mixture of water and rubbing alcohol. Apply calamine lotion with phenol to relieve the itching and, if there is any evidence of infection (pustules developing in the reddened papules), consult a skin specialist.

Q—Four months ago, I broke an ankle and had it in a cast for four weeks. After four more weeks, two of which I spent in bed, I started walking but my ankle still swells and I still walk with a limp. How long will this continue? What can be done to help me?

A—It usually takes eight to 12 weeks for a fractured ankle to become firm enough to permit weight bearing. When the cast is removed, there is always some pain and swelling. For this reason, a brace or an elastic bandage, applied from the toes to the knee, should be worn daily for six to eight months, starting when the cast is removed.

DURING THIS time, ankle exercises should be practiced, starting with bending the ankle in all directions without weight-bearing and gradually resuming walking. Crutches or a cane should be used at first to help you get around. It may be advisable to wear shoes with a Thomas heel which extends forward to support the arch. A conscious effort must be made to walk without a limp so that the limp doesn't become a habit.

Q—My doctor prescribed Darvon for severe headaches. It is very effective. Why is it necessary to have a prescription too get it?

A—Propoxyphene (Darvon), like most of the powerful modern drugs, is safe when taken under medical supervision. An overdose may cause muscular twitching, mental confusion, convulsions and loss of consciousness. Any unusual symptoms that appear while you are taking this drug should be reported to your doctor.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M. D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

House Unit's OK Predicted For Gun Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cracks are appearing in the solid wall of resistance Congress has thrown up against efforts to write a tougher gun-control law.

In the House, Chairman Emanuel Celler, D N.Y., of the House Judiciary Committee predicts the committee will approve a gun bill at its next meeting June 20. The panel rejected such a bill by a tie vote Tuesday.

However, that 16 to 16 vote was the closest this stringent a gun-control bill has come to winning the committee's approval.

And the Senate, an indication of the mounting pressure for stiffer controls over gun purchases was reflected in the plea of Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., for the people of his state to review this long- held position against such legislation—which McGovern also has opposed.

He said South Dakota sportsmen should consider whether they would be willing to undergo "a certain mount of inconvenience" in order to help slow the use of guns in violent crime.

President Johnson, who has repeatedly urged Congress to pass a law restricting sales of all firearms, called Tuesday's tie vote in the House Judiciary Committee "a shocking blow at the safety of every citizen in the country."

Celler expressed confidence he can pick up at least one more vote to break the tie when the committee reconsiders its action June 20.

As the committee considered the issue, several hundred pickets circled the downtown offices of the National Rifle Association, bearing placards demanding strong gun controls. The NRA has opposed the tougher bill, contending Americans have the constitutional right to bear arms.

With a heavy load of mail urging a stiffer law now reaching Congress in the aftermath of the shooting death of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, the pressure will be on committee Republicans, who voted almost solidly against the bill.

The tie vote came on a bill sent to Congress Monday by Johnson. It would prohibit mail-order sales of rifles, shotguns and ammunition, and also over-the-counter sales to residents of another state.

Johnson has on his desk a bill that would place similar restrictions on pistols. It is part of an omnibus crime-control bill that Johnson has not yet signed into law.

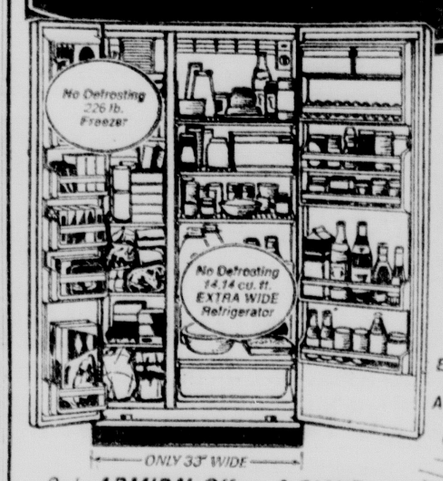

Congress did not provide restrictions against the sale of rifles and shotguns, a decision which led to the new administration proposal.

President Issues Statement

Deep Crisis Theatens Government Of Colombia

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — President Carlos Lleras Restrepo told the Colombian Senate Tuesday night to accept his reform program or his resignation, plunging the South American nation into its deepest governmental crisis in recent years.

If Congress refuses to accept the resignation, Lleras said in a broadcast to the nation, it will mean it is ready to approve his program, which the Senate rejected last week.

An earlier announcement that Lleras would resign set off anti-government riots at the University of Bogota Tuesday night and clashes in the city between supporters of Lleras and of ex-dictator Gustavo Rojas Pinilla.

Army units with tanks occupied the university campus.

Authorities said 20 policemen and three civilians had been injured, including one student in serious condition. The government charged that the rioting students were disciples of Mao Tse-tung and Fidel Castro.

The Senate on Friday rejected constitutional amendments submitted by Lleras to curtail congressional power over economic matters and to allow, for the first time in 10 years, political parties other than the ruling Conservatives and Liberals to run candidates in future elections.

Under the constitution, the presidency alternates between a Liberal and a Conservative every four years, the result of a 1957 agreement which ended a decade of civil war. Lleras is a Liberal.

In recent years both major parties have been split by factionalism, making it difficult for the government to put together a congressional majority to approve legislation.

Lleras became president of this nation of 19-million people two years ago after winning 75 per cent of the votes. He promised to accomplish an ambitious program of social and economic reforms to achieve what he called "a more equal society," narrowing the gap between the affluent and the poor.

He has already accomplished extensive agrarian reforms to benefit 500,000 landless Colombians as well as a no-compromise tax reform which has hurt more wealthy Colombians accustomed in the past to paying minimum taxes. But other key programs have been blocked in Congress, frequently by rebels of his own party.

West Summit Talks Aim Of Rockefeller

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller pledged today to call a summit meeting of Western heads of state to create "a true Atlantic partnership," if elected president.

Looking for support to overcome the Republican delegate lead of Richard M. Nixon, the New Yorker offered sweeping foreign policy proposals in the opening of two days of public speeches and private talks in California.

He planned private meetings with a few top Republicans who are pledged to vote for California Gov. Ronald Reagan as a favorite son at the convention.

Concentrating on foreign affairs, Rockefeller called for closer United States cooperation with Western Europe, including giving the supreme command of NATO to a European instead of an American.

Secret Service agents, New York state troopers and two Los Angeles police department intelligence officers guarded Rockefeller—the first announced presidential candidate to come to California since Robert F. Kennedy was shot to death in Los Angeles last Wednesday.

Ky Resigns Defense Post In South Viet

SAIGON (AP) — Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky quit today as head of South Vietnam's People's Self Defense Committee, giving further evidence of President Nguyen Van Thieu's gains in the long power struggle between the two men.

Ky's letter of resignation to which Ky has not participated in any government activities and has remained almost entirely in seclusion at the seaside town of Nha Trang.

The committee is an attempt by the government to arm and give rudimentary training to neighborhood and village groups for self defense against the Viet Cong. Ky was appointed to head it on May 3.

In the past week, Thieu has steadily increased his own control of the government at the expense of Ky. One after another, Thieu has replaced high officials loyal to Ky with men loyal to himself.

Among the Ky men replaced or about to be replaced are Maj. Gen. Nguyen Ngo Loan, director of the national police; Lt. Gen. Le Nguyen Khang, commander of the 3rd Military Corps area; and Van Van Cua, the mayor of Saigon.

Five More Ohioans Killed In Viet Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five more Ohioans have been killed in action in Vietnam, the Defense Department reported Tuesday.

Killed were Navy Radioman 2C Thomas J. Meenan, North Olmsted; Marine Cpl. Emory D. Voorhies, Cambridge; Marine Lance Cpl. David R. Keller, Bellefontaine; Marine Pfc. Billy J. Lackey, Dayton, and Air Force Maj. Robert Ball, Loveland.

Marine Pfc. Squire N. Mayberry Jr., Dayton, died of wounds.

Rate Increase Action Begun

NEW CUMBERLAND—Councilman Dean Chamberlain reported on the proposed water-sewage rate increase at a joint meeting of Council and the Water Sewage board here.

Chamberlain's proposal included the elimination of the discount period on the quarterly bills and raising the past due penalties to 15 per cent, as well as increasing proportionately the present rates.

He recommended that if the increase is adopted, the billing should be changed to monthly instead of quarterly. It also was suggested that the rates outside the city limits should be 10 per cent higher.

Mayor Arthur Watson explained that if action has begun to raise the water rates, the city would not begin to realize the revenue for at least six months, therefore the Tomlinson public service district rate would not be raised for two years according to the present contract.

Chamberlain was directed to meet with the finance committee and the city solicitor to draft the application for the public service commission preparatory to the boost.

In other action, Tom Donovan of the State Road Commission reported to Council that the SRC had completed its paving of Route 2 through New Cumberland. He suggested that a curb be installed in several places where the road is higher than the sidewalk.

Chimpanzees fashion and use crude implements. Some devise from twigs simple tools to aid in fishing out termites from their earthen nests. Some make ingenious dringing "sponges" by crumpling leaves.

Authorities said 20 policemen and three civilians had been injured, including one student in serious condition. The government charged that the rioting students were disciples of Mao Tse-tung and Fidel Castro.

The Senate on Friday rejected constitutional amendments submitted by Lleras to curtail congressional power over economic matters and to allow, for the first time in 10 years, political parties other than the ruling Conservatives and Liberals to run candidates in future elections.

Under the constitution, the presidency alternates between a Liberal and a Conservative every four years, the result of a 1957 agreement which ended a decade of civil war. Lleras is a Liberal.

In recent years both major parties have been split by factionalism, making it difficult for the government to put together a congressional majority to approve legislation.

Lleras became president of this nation of 19-million people two years ago after winning 75 per cent of the votes. He promised to accomplish an ambitious program of social and economic reforms to achieve what he called "a more equal society," narrowing the gap between the affluent and the poor.

He has already accomplished extensive agrarian reforms to benefit 500,000 landless Colombians as well as a no-compromise tax reform which has hurt more wealthy Colombians accustomed in the past to paying minimum taxes. But other key programs have been blocked in Congress, frequently by rebels of his own party.

West Summit Talks Aim Of Rockefeller

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller pledged today to call a summit meeting of Western heads of state to create "a true Atlantic partnership," if elected president.

Looking for support to overcome the Republican delegate lead of Richard M. Nixon, the New Yorker offered sweeping foreign policy proposals in the opening of two days of public speeches and private talks in California.

He planned private meetings with a few top Republicans who are pledged to vote for California Gov. Ronald Reagan as a favorite son at the convention.

Concentrating on foreign affairs, Rockefeller called for closer United States cooperation with Western Europe, including giving the supreme command of NATO to a European instead of an American.

Secret Service agents, New York state troopers and two Los Angeles police department intelligence officers guarded Rockefeller—the first announced presidential candidate to come to California since Robert F. Kennedy was shot to death in Los Angeles last Wednesday.

Ky Resigns Defense Post In South Viet

SAIGON (AP) — Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky quit today as head of South Vietnam's People's Self Defense Committee, giving further evidence of President Nguyen Van Thieu's gains in the long power struggle between the two men.

Ky's letter of resignation to which Ky has not participated in any government activities and has remained almost entirely in seclusion at the seaside town of Nha Trang.

The committee is an attempt by the government to arm and give rudimentary training to neighborhood and village groups for self defense against the Viet Cong. Ky was appointed to head it on May 3.

In the past week, Thieu has steadily increased his own control of the government at the expense of Ky. One after another, Thieu has replaced high officials loyal to Ky with men loyal to himself.

Among the Ky men replaced or about to be replaced are Maj. Gen. Nguyen Ngo Loan, director of the national police; Lt. Gen. Le Nguyen Khang, commander of the 3rd Military Corps area; and Van Van Cua, the mayor of Saigon.

Five More Ohioans Killed In Viet Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five more Ohioans have been killed in action in Vietnam, the Defense Department reported Tuesday.

Killed were Navy Radioman 2C Thomas J. Meenan, North Olmsted; Marine Cpl. Emory D. Voorhies, Cambridge; Marine Lance Cpl. David R. Keller, Bellefontaine; Marine Pfc. Billy J. Lackey, Dayton, and Air Force Maj. Robert Ball, Loveland.

Marine Pfc. Squire N. Mayberry Jr., Dayton, died of wounds.

Rate Increase Action Begun

NEW CUMBERLAND—Councilman Dean Chamberlain reported on the proposed water-sewage rate increase at a joint meeting of Council and the Water Sewage board here.

Chamberlain's proposal included the elimination of the discount period on the quarterly bills and raising the past due penalties to 15 per cent, as well as increasing proportionately the present rates.

He recommended that if the increase is adopted, the billing should be changed to monthly instead of quarterly. It also was suggested that the rates outside the city limits should be 10 per cent higher.

Mayor Arthur Watson explained that if action has begun to raise the water rates, the city would not begin to realize the revenue for at least six months, therefore the Tomlinson public service district rate would not be raised for two years according to the present contract.

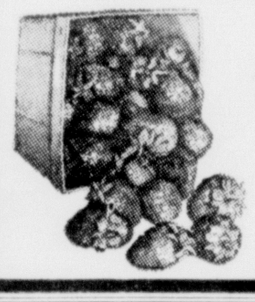

Chamberlain was directed to meet with the finance committee and the city solicitor to draft the application for the public service commission preparatory to the boost.

In other action, Tom Donovan of the State Road Commission reported to Council that the SRC had completed its paving of Route 2 through New Cumberland. He suggested that a curb be installed in several places where the road is higher than the sidewalk.

Chimpanzees fashion and use crude implements. Some devise from twigs simple tools to aid in fishing out termites from their earthen nests. Some make ingenious dringing "sponges" by crumpling leaves.

The Otis brothers installed the first electric elevator in a New York building in 1889.

say Dad... ever wonder how Mom got the money

Come Sunday morning, will you be one of the millions of fathers who are forever amazed

Will you look at your new fishing reel or power tool or camera... and wonder:
"How did Mom get the money?"

You'll know she didn't rob a bank...and she didn't sell the car.

Maybe, just maybe, we can give you a hint.

Is Mom an A&P shopper?
Could it be that the savings she makes each week of the year add up to so much?

Why not ask her?

Before you do though, better take a quick look in the garage to make sure the car's still there.

Pirates Rally To Beat San Francisco 7-4, Get 16 Hits

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Mike McVay will receive another honor June 29.

McVay has been selected as the outstanding senior high school athlete in the state of Ohio by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. McVay previously had been named outstanding athlete in the VFW's District 6 and was honored at a banquet in East Liverpool. He was selected from a list of 47 athletes considered by the state VFW and will be honored at the VFW convention in Columbus June 29. McVay, considered one of the finest athletes in East Liverpool High School history, was All-East in football and starred in basketball, baseball and track.

BERNIE ALLEN continues to hold up his batting average, hitting .345 according to the latest figures. Allen, bothered by a sore hand, is playing with his right hand heavily taped.

CARL HATFIELD, West Virginia U.'s star distance runner, will run the 10,000 meters race in the NCAA championships at Berkeley, Calif., tomorrow. The top six finishers in the race will qualify for the Olympic trials later this month.

SEVERAL LEETONIA football players have announced their college choices. Among those getting scholarships of some sort are fullback Dan Bell at Toledo, kicker Fred Bruderly at Murray State, center Terry Kornbau at Western Reserve and halfback Tom Coseno at Bowling Green. Bell was all-state Class A.

STEVE SONOGA, football coach at Boardman, has resigned. Boardman is an East Liverpool foe this fall.

RICHIE ALLEN of the Phillies, the "Wampum Walloper," is being accused of malingering by the Philadelphia papers. The purpose of the malingering would be to get traded.

CLEVELAND continues to lead the Lakes Division of the North American Soccer League with a 6-3-4 mark.

RON (COWBOY) KRICK, 6-9 basketball player who was all-state when playing for West Reading, Pa., and who later played for the University of Cincinnati, has signed with the Atlanta Hawks of the NBA.

ANOTHER established star having his problems at the plate this season is Frank Robinson of the Orioles. Robinson, who won the triple crown in 1966, is hitting just .194. He has been bothered by mumps and other ailments.

Kline Winner In Relief Role

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates finally put together a respectable attack with a 16-hit barrage and won a ball game.

At first it looked like another Pirate outing as they staked the San Francisco Giants to a 3-0 lead in the first four innings Tuesday night.

But by the sixth inning the dormant Pirate bats came alive and they went on to defeat the Giants 7-4.

Even bigger news at Candlestick, however, was a report a deal was brewing for Pirates' third baseman Maury Wills. It was suggested that the Giants' Jesus Alou and Bob Bolin would be involved.

Giants' Vice-President Chub Feeney and Pirates' General Manager Joe L. Brown admitted discussing a trade but Feeney stressed "Alou and Bolin weren't mentioned."

Neither official denied Wills was a part of the trade talks, but both said they "wouldn't name any players discussed." Wills also had a "no comment" reply.

The former base-stealing champion refused to play for the Pirates against the Astros Sunday out of respect to the day of mourning for the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Wills saw no connection in his feeling over the Kennedy situation and the trade rumors.

"I've never asked to be traded," he said. "I'm happy here. The players know how I felt in not playing Sunday."

Wills got into the act Tuesday night with a pair of singles, but the big blows were registered in the sixth inning when the Pirates overcame a 3-2 Giants' lead with a four-run rally.

Roberto Clemente opened the inning with a home run. After Manny Mota singled and Donn Clendenon doubled, Jon Herbel replaced Sadecki. Bill Mazeroski's two-run single and a run-scoring single by Wills capped the rally.

Reliever Ron Kline, 4-1, picked up the victory.

Ray Sadecki, 6-8, was given the early lead when Willie McCovey walked and Alou tripled in the second inning. In the fourth, Willie Mays walked and McCovey slammed a 400-foot homer. The blast was McCovey's 12th, giving him the National League lead.

Snyder's Grand Slam Gives White Sox Win

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Russ Snyder's big hit in his role as most valuable off the bench has the Chicago White Sox celebrating their rise out of the American League cellar.

But Cesar Tovar's departure from his part as most valuable anywhere has the Minnesota Twins feeling mighty low.

Snyder, who had been flubbing his lines as ace substitute since the White Sox got him from Baltimore last winter, hit the first grand slam home run of his career that sent the Sox to a 9-5 victory over the New York Yankees Tuesday night. The triumph lifted Chicago from 10th to eighth place.

In contrast Tovar departed from the script he wrote last year as the Twins' most valuable player and made two errors that let in two runs, the last giving the Detroit Tigers a sweep of their doubleheader with Minnesota. The 3-1 and 3-2 losses left the fourth place Twins floundering nine games behind the Tigers.

Elsewhere in the AL, Baltimore belted Washington 8-4, Oakland tripped Cleveland 2-0 in a rain-shortened affair and rain forced postponement of California's doubleheader at Boston.

Snyder, who had come off the bench numerous times at Baltimore as a heavy-hitting replacement for a slumping or injured regular, was hitting only .115 with no homers and no runs batted in for the Sox.

But the 33-year-old veteran of nine major leagues seasons capped a five-run explosion in the third inning with his applause-winning blast and closed the scoring with a sacrifice fly in the ninth inning.

Only a three-run homer by Tom Tresh and a two-run clout by Mickey Mantle off winner Joe Horlen, 5-6, kept the Yankees in contention. Charlie Smith of the Yanks also had a pinch double, his fifth straight pinch hit, one short of the league record.

For Minnesota and Tovar, their play was a flop. The Twins started the evening with hopes of closing the seven-game gap that separated them from the first place Tigers.

Instead, their losing streak reached four.

Rookie pitcher Pat Dobson, 2-0, singled in a run and stopped the Twins on five hits and 10 strikeouts in the opener before giving way to Daryl Patterson with two outs in the eighth inning. Dobson's catcher, Jim Price drove in two unearned runs — Rich Rollins made the error — with a single and later doubled and scored on Dobson's hit to beat Dean Chance, 4-8.

In the nightcap, Tovar, a jack-of-all trades who played second base and shortstop in the opener and second in the nightcap, fumbled away a run in the third inning.

Met Hurler Selma Wins Sixth Straight

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Given an option three months ago, the New York Mets might have left Dick Selma in Florida without a backward glance. Given a choice today, they'd probably settle for nothing less than two of him.

Selma, a distinct flop during spring training, reeled off his sixth regular season victory without a loss Tuesday night, hurling a five-hitter as the Mets tripped the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-0.

Selma appeared ticketed for the Mets' Jacksonville farm club in April after appearing in five exhibition games ... and compiling an 0-5 record. But New York had exercised all its options on the 24-year-old righthander, and Manager Gil Hodges wanted to take one more look before giving up on him.

Now Selma rates No. 1 among National League pitchers with five or more decisions and merits a place of esteem on the Mets' talented young pitching staff alongside Jerry Koosman, Tom Seaver and Nolan Ryan.

In other NL games, Pittsburgh slugged San Francisco 7-4, with a 16-hit barrage; first place St. Louis trimmed Atlanta 6-0 behind Bob Gibson; Houston upended Philadelphia 5-1; and Cincinnati outscored the Chicago Cubs 9-7.

Selma lowered his earned run average to 1.77 Tuesday night, struck out four Dodgers and never was in serious trouble.

Two errors by third baseman Ken Boyer helped the Mets push over a pair of unearned runs against loser Claude Osteen, 5-8, who rad pitched shutouts in his previous two starts.

Tony Perez knocked in four runs with a homer, single and ground out, leading the Reds past the Cubs in an afternoon game. Perez, who leads the league with 39 RBI, gave Cincinnati its margin of victory with a two-run blast in the sixth inning. Lee May also homered for the Reds.

Tommy Samples, Benny Gregory and Aaron also had two hits. Dutch Wright had two hits for Littens and Horger had a double. Rightfielder Randy Bosworth made two key catches for Burbick's.

Rick Lockhart paced Woodbine's. He went 3 for 3, scored 4 runs and drove in 5. Russ Fiorello was 3 for 3, Phil LaScola batted in three runs with two hits, Randy Baker had two doubles, George Hanlon had a single and double and Randy Barnard had a double. Barnard was the winning pitcher, allowing only four hits. Cheeks was the losing pitcher. Jim Anerson had a double for Sevey's.

Mike McVay will receive another honor June 29.

McVay has been selected as the outstanding senior high school athlete in the state of Ohio by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. McVay previously had been named outstanding athlete in the VFW's District 6 and was honored at a banquet in East Liverpool. He was selected from a list of 47 athletes considered by the state VFW and will be honored at the VFW convention in Columbus June 29. McVay, considered one of the finest athletes in East Liverpool High School history, was All-East in football and starred in basketball, baseball and track.

BERNIE ALLEN continues to hold up his batting average, hitting .345 according to the latest figures. Allen, bothered by a sore hand, is playing with his right hand heavily taped.

CARL HATFIELD, West Virginia U.'s star distance runner, will run the 10,000 meters race in the NCAA championships at Berkeley, Calif., tomorrow. The top six finishers in the race will qualify for the Olympic trials later this month.

SEVERAL LEETONIA football players have announced their college choices. Among those getting scholarships of some sort are fullback Dan Bell at Toledo, kicker Fred Bruderly at Murray State, center Terry Kornbau at Western Reserve and halfback Tom Coseno at Bowling Green. Bell was all-state Class A.

STEVE SONOGA, football coach at Boardman, has resigned. Boardman is an East Liverpool foe this fall.

RICHIE ALLEN of the Phillies, the "Wampum Walloper," is being accused of malingering by the Philadelphia papers. The purpose of the malingering would be to get traded.

CLEVELAND continues to lead the Lakes Division of the North American Soccer League with a 6-3-4 mark.

RON (COWBOY) KRICK, 6-9 basketball player who was all-state when playing for West Reading, Pa., and who later played for the University of Cincinnati, has signed with the Atlanta Hawks of the NBA.

ANOTHER established star having his problems at the plate this season is Frank Robinson of the Orioles. Robinson, who won the triple crown in 1966, is hitting just .194. He has been bothered by mumps and other ailments.

Kline Winner In Relief Role

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates finally put together a respectable attack with a 16-hit barrage and won a ball game.

At first it looked like another Pirate outing as they staked the San Francisco Giants to a 3-0 lead in the first four innings Tuesday night.

But by the sixth inning the dormant Pirate bats came alive and they went on to defeat the Giants 7-4.

Even bigger news at Candlestick, however, was a report a deal was brewing for Pirates' third baseman Maury Wills. It was suggested that the Giants' Jesus Alou and Bob Bolin would be involved.

Giants' Vice-President Chub Feeney and Pirates' General Manager Joe L. Brown admitted discussing a trade but Feeney stressed "Alou and Bolin weren't mentioned."

Neither official denied Wills was a part of the trade talks, but both said they "wouldn't name any players discussed." Wills also had a "no comment" reply.

The former base-stealing champion refused to play for the Pirates against the Astros Sunday out of respect to the day of mourning for the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Wills saw no connection in his feeling over the Kennedy situation and the trade rumors.

"I've never asked to be traded," he said. "I'm happy here. The players know how I felt in not playing Sunday."

Wills got into the act Tuesday night with a pair of singles, but the big blows were registered in the sixth inning when the Pirates overcame a 3-2 Giants' lead with a four-run rally.

Roberto Clemente opened the inning with a home run. After Manny Mota singled and Donn Clendenon doubled, Jon Herbel replaced Sadecki. Bill Mazeroski's two-run single and a run-scoring single by Wills capped the rally.

Reliever Ron Kline, 4-1, picked up the victory.

Ray Sadecki, 6-8, was given the early lead when Willie McCovey walked and Alou tripled in the second inning. In the fourth, Willie Mays walked and McCovey slammed a 400-foot homer. The blast was McCovey's 12th, giving him the National League lead.

Reds, Braves Swing Deal For Six Men

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati and Atlanta exchanged hurlers Milt Pappas and Tony Cloninger Tuesday in a six-man deal that both teams feel will bolster their pitching staffs especially.

The Reds also sent reliever Ted Davidson and infielder Bob Johnson to the Braves for reliever Clay Carroll and infielder Woody Woodward.

Pappas recently said his playing days with Cincinnati "are numbered" and added Tuesday that "I knew I was going. It was only a metter of where and when," Pappas concluded.

Pappas ran into a dispute with Cincinnati management following the slaying of U.S. Sen. Robert Kennedy and ended up announcing last Saturday his resignation as Cincinnati player representative.

Kennedy's funeral was delayed and Pappas told Reds' officials that players would rather not play Saturday night. Management felt differently.

When asked if he negotiated the deal with Atlanta after the dispute with Pappas, Reds General Manager Bob Howsam replied, "No, we've been working on the deal since May 17."

Cloninger is 1-3 this year with 4.26 earned run average.

Pappas is 2-5 with a 5.57 ERA in 15 games.

Casper Solid Choice In U.S. Open

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Billy Casper, quiet and cool as ever but the hottest commodity on the pro tour, was a solid favorite today to capture his third United States Open Golf Championship.

Casper's near fantastic success this year—he's won four tournaments and almost $125,000—has thrust him ahead of the usual favorites, the troubled twosome of Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer.

"Billy's got to be the man to beat," said young Lee Trevino, also ranked by his fellow pros as a prime contender for golf's most prestigious title.

"Casper's playing incredible golf and the course is made for him."

Firing starts Thursday on the demanding 6,962-yard, par 70 Oak Hill Country Club layout. The starting field of 150 will be trimmed to the low 60 and ties after Friday's play for the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday.

The last two rounds will be televised nationally by ABC.

"I'm playing the best golf of my life," said the 36-year-old Casper, second only to Palmer on the all-time list of money winners and this year's leader.

"I have never played better. Largely, I think, it's my attitude. Whatever it is, it's all there. All aspects of my game are the best they have ever been."

The course is not overly long, which favors Casper. But the fairways are very narrow, favoring his rifle-like accuracy, and the course is studded with some 34,000 trees, mostly oak and pine, and laced by winding brooks, picturesque but hazardous.

Most of the pros figure the demand for accuracy and the penalties of the hazards cut the chances of the gambling Nicklaus and Palmer.

Nicklaus is in a slump. He hasn't won this year. Palmer is plagued by a balky, aching hip. His last major title was the 1964 Masters. Gary Player says he's playing well and putting poorly. He hasn't scored a tour victory since the 1965 Open.

But they're always threats. And Nicklaus said his game has been improved with a new driver.

Other major threats include Roberto de Vicenzo, the British Open champion who signed an incorrect card at the Masters; strong, young Tom Weiskopf; Masters champion Bob Goalby; and PGA champion Don January.

Griffith Beats Heilman On Solid Split Decision

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

OAKLAND (AP)—In the ring or out, Emile Griffith still knows how to hurt a guy.

The former middleweight champion had just spent 12 rounds pounding out a solid although split decision over an outclassed Andy Heilman Tuesday night and he was paying his respects to his opponent.

"It was a good workout," Griffith deadpanned. "He tried very hard."

Actually, the square-jawed, hawk-featured Heilman was something more than a workout for Griffith, who now seems close to a fourth middleweight title fight with champion Nino Benvenuti.

Heilman's continued close-in fighting kept Emile from landing a knockout punch through he continually smacked the 27-year-old North Dakotan with telling jabs.

"I wasn't trying for a knockout," Griffith said with a straight face, "because I needed the workout. I was trying to put on a good show. I needed the practice."

The decision was split because referee Vern Bybee scored the fight as a draw.

Stanky Sees White Sox In Flag Race

NEW YORK (AP) — The view from way down there deep in the second division still is encouraging to Eddie Stanky of the Chicago White Sox.

"It's still too early to count anybody out," said Stanky whose Sox got left at the post and lost their first 10 starts this season.

"I said in Florida and I'll say it again that Boston is the team to beat," said Stanky. "After all, they are the champions although I understand Jim Lonborg's shoulder is stiff."

"The big surprise this year has been the hitting, or rather lack of hitting by the entire league. I thought it might be weaker but not this week.

"The only answer is the pitching. They are getting better every year. In years to come you are going to see more and more no hitters and low hit games."

Stanky still has his incentive program by which a player is rewarded for an outstanding pitching or hitting job. He has not had to hand out many so far this season.

"Tommy John got a new suit of clothes when he broke our losing streak," said Stanky, whose club rose from last to eighth place with a 9-5 win Tuesday night over New York.

"We also have assessments," he said. "We've always had them on my clubs. At the end of the year when I was in St. Louis we'd have a big party from that fund. It used to cost me $400 out of my own pocket. I make it a point to give it all back to the players in some form."

Most managers call assessments by another name—fines.

Belligerent Rich Allen Slams Homer For Phils

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The embattled Rich Allen may not have the right attitude but he has the right altitude.

Allen, who has been charged with malingering in an effort to get himself traded, was back in the starting line-up of the Philadelphia Phillies Tuesday night for the first time since May 29.

His first time at bat, as the usual boos echoed through Connie Mack Stadium, Allen smacked a 3-2 pitch over the right field wall for his eighth home run. It was his only hit and the Phillies' only run as they lost to the Houston Astros 5-1.

Allen was in left field as the result of a Monday conference with Phillies' owner Bob Carpenter. The owner said Allen's differences with Manager Gene Mauch had been resolved.

That wasn't the picture painted Monday night by all the parties involved. The day of reckoning merely was postponed. Carpenter virtually admitted this it a pre-game press party when he said "in essence we are buying time to try and work this thing out."

Carpenter refused to divulge the conversation he had with Allen, saying it was confidential. He did say he talked to the outfielder-third baseman like a father to a son and tried to explain the errors of his ways.

After the game Mauch said, "I think what Bob (Carpenter) resolved was Allen's frame of mind."

Allen said he talked with Carpenter about the booing and other things. "I told him the writers had something wrong. I didn't hurt myself on a horse. I've had the injury (groin injury) since spring training."

Allen said he didn't play on the recent seven-day road trip because his name wasn't on the line-up card. "I've played before when I was hurt. This time I wasn't on the card."

Mauch said he placed his line-up card in the dugout before each game and that Allen never even looked at it. He came out on the field in the middle of the first inning each game and went to the bullpen.

Gates Brown Pinchhitter Supreme

DETROIT (AP) — Gates Brown, the best pinch hitter in the major leagues, would rather play every day. But he's become resigned to the role of "three swings when we're behind" as the Detroit Tigers pursue the American League pennant.

Despite his eight hits in 12 pinch at-bats, the 28-year-old left-hand batter is well aware Manager Mayo Smith would rather use Al Kaline, Mickey Stanley, Jim Northrup and Willie Horton, all of whom have better arms and defensive range.

"I'm resigned to the fact that I just ain't going to play," says Brown, a six-year veteran who hit a pinch home run in his first time at bat in the majors.

So far this year in 14 pinch hitting appearances, Brown has slammed a game-winning homer, a triple, two doubles, four singles and walked twice. He has 10 hits in 19 trips for a .525 average over-all.

Griffith Beats Heilman On Solid Split Decision

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

OAKLAND (AP)—In the ring or out, Emile Griffith still knows how to hurt a guy.

The former middleweight champion had just spent 12 rounds pounding out a solid although split decision over an outclassed Andy Heilman Tuesday night and he was paying his respects to his opponent.

"It was a good workout," Griffith deadpanned. "He tried very hard."

Actually, the square-jawed, hawk-featured Heilman was something more than a workout for Griffith, who now seems close to a fourth middleweight title fight with champion Nino Benvenuti.

Heilman's continued close-in fighting kept Emile from landing a knockout punch through he continually smacked the 27-year-old North Dakotan with telling jabs.

"I wasn't trying for a knockout," Griffith said with a straight face, "because I needed the workout. I was trying to put on a good show. I needed the practice."

The decision was split because referee Vern Bybee scored the fight as a draw.

Stanky Sees White Sox In Flag Race

NEW YORK (AP) — The view from way down there deep in the second division still is encouraging to Eddie Stanky of the Chicago White Sox.

"It's still too early to count anybody out," said Stanky whose Sox got left at the post and lost their first 10 starts this season.

"I said in Florida and I'll say it again that Boston is the team to beat," said Stanky. "After all, they are the champions although I understand Jim Lonborg's shoulder is stiff."

"The big surprise this year has been the hitting, or rather lack of hitting by the entire league. I thought it might be weaker but not this week.

"The only answer is the pitching. They are getting better every year. In years to come you are going to see more and more no hitters and low hit games."

Stanky still has his incentive program by which a player is rewarded for an outstanding pitching or hitting job. He has not had to hand out many so far this season.

"Tommy John got a new suit of clothes when he broke our losing streak," said Stanky, whose club rose from last to eighth place with a 9-5 win Tuesday night over New York.

"We also have assessments," he said. "We've always had them on my clubs. At the end of the year when I was in St. Louis we'd have a big party from that fund. It used to cost me $400 out of my own pocket. I make it a point to give it all back to the players in some form."

Most managers call assessments by another name—fines.

Belligerent Rich Allen Slams Homer For Phils

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The embattled Rich Allen may not have the right attitude but he has the right altitude.

Allen, who has been charged with malingering in an effort to get himself traded, was back in the starting line-up of the Philadelphia Phillies Tuesday night for the first time since May 29.

His first time at bat, as the usual boos echoed through Connie Mack Stadium, Allen smacked a 3-2 pitch over the right field wall for his eighth home run. It was his only hit and the Phillies' only run as they lost to the Houston Astros 5-1.

Allen was in left field as the result of a Monday conference with Phillies' owner Bob Carpenter. The owner said Allen's differences with Manager Gene Mauch had been resolved.

That wasn't the picture painted Monday night by all the parties involved. The day of reckoning merely was postponed. Carpenter virtually admitted this it a pre-game press party when he said "in essence we are buying time to try and work this thing out."

Carpenter refused to divulge the conversation he had with Allen, saying it was confidential. He did say he talked to the outfielder-third baseman like a father to a son and tried to explain the errors of his ways.

After the game Mauch said, "I think what Bob (Carpenter) resolved was Allen's frame of mind."

Allen said he talked with Carpenter about the booing and other things. "I told him the writers had something wrong. I didn't hurt myself on a horse. I've had the injury (groin injury) since spring training."

Allen said he didn't play on the recent seven-day road trip because his name wasn't on the line-up card. "I've played before when I was hurt. This time I wasn't on the card."

Mauch said he placed his line-up card in the dugout before each game and that Allen never even looked at it. He came out on the field in the middle of the first inning each game and went to the bullpen.

Gates Brown Pinchhitter Supreme

DETROIT (AP) — Gates Brown, the best pinch hitter in the major leagues, would rather play every day. But he's become resigned to the role of "three swings when we're behind" as the Detroit Tigers pursue the American League pennant.

Despite his eight hits in 12 pinch at-bats, the 28-year-old left-hand batter is well aware Manager Mayo Smith would rather use Al Kaline, Mickey Stanley, Jim Northrup and Willie Horton, all of whom have better arms and defensive range.

"I'm resigned to the fact that I just ain't going to play," says Brown, a six-year veteran who hit a pinch home run in his first time at bat in the majors.

So far this year in 14 pinch hitting appearances, Brown has slammed a game-winning homer, a triple, two doubles, four singles and walked twice. He has 10 hits in 19 trips for a .525 average over-all.

Junior Editors Quiz on THE ODYSSEY

QUESTION: What should we know about the Odyssey and the Iliad?

ANSWER: The Odyssey and the Iliad are long stories in poetical form, originally chanted or sung. They were originated by the blind poet Homer, in the days of ancient Greece. Only a little is known about Homer who, with the guidance of a small boy, is supposed to have wandered about the country, singing his songs to the music of his lyre. In some way, the songs were written down. They inspired other writers to tell fascinating stories. Since Homer introduced many great and noble ideas into his poems, an art of great writing began to develop which greatly influenced Western civilization and laid the foundation for the finer kind of writing we call literature. In his songs, Homer used imagination. He gave the Greek gods and goddesses human feelings. He even let them fly down and interfere in human affairs, as in our picture where the hero Achilles finds his hair suddenly seized from behind by the goddess Athene, who is trying to calm him down in a moment of sudden anger. The Iliad tells the story of the Greek attack on the neighboring city of Troy, while the Odyssey tells about the hero Ulysses who has many adventures while trying to return to his home after the Trojan War.

ANN LANDERS

She Loses Fat Friends

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I got tired of hearing people say, "You have such a pretty face — if you lost some weight you'd be beautiful." So I went to my family doctor and asked him to put me on a strict diet. I shed 40 pounds in seven months.

So what am I writing about? Well, since I've lost weight I've also lost my fat girl friends. I shared my diet with them and kept urging them to stick with it but they didn't have the will power.

At first they seemed thrilled about my weight loss but as I began to look better they became cooler and cooler. The real break came when I started to date some very attractive men. It's hard for me to believe my friends are jealous, yet I don't know how else to figure it. Do you? — THE NEW ME.

Dear New: Success can be awfully hard to take — particularly somebody else's. Those dames are not friends. They were merely acquaintances with whom you once shared a common misery. You've lost nothing of value.

In The Middle

Dear Ann: I'm employed in a large office. The man who clears all down payments has been helping himself to money. He confided that he started by taking small amounts for a day or two to tide him over a personal "crisis." Now he takes larger amounts for longer periods.

I have access to the books but never have had any reason to check them. I'm afraid one day he'll be discovered before he has a chance to set the books right.

This has caused me sleepless nights because now that I'm aware of what's going on I have what is known as "guilty knowledge." I don't know why he cut me in his maneuverings and I wish he hadn't.

Should I go to the boss, or to his wife, or keep my trap shut hope for the best? — TOO MUCH INFOR.

Dear Too Much: Your co-worker is committing the crime of embezzlement and the fact that so far he has made restitution periodically doesn't change the situation. It's your duty to tell the boss what's going on and leave it to him to decide whether to give Mr. Sticky Fingers another chance.

Cleaned Out

Dear Ann: If you don't want to print my letter please put a check in either of the boxes I have drawn at the bottom of the page and return it to me in the enclosed envelope. One box is marked she pays. The other box is marked you pay and forget it.

I have a cleaning woman who is unbelievable. If she had one more brain she'd be an idiot. This dumbbell has worked for me for six years. Don't ask me how I've stood it.

Yesterday she tried to do me a favor and save 15 cents worth of soap powder. She overloaded my washing machine and burned out the motor. The repair bill is going to be out of this world.

Should the woman pay for the damage or not? Please check the square and I'll do as you say. — EMPLOYER OF A NUMBSKULL.

Dear Employer: I'm checking "YOU PAY AND FORGET IT." Everyone who has domestic help must expect some breakage over a period of time.

Even smart and careful housewives have been known to break things once in awhile, so don't be so hard on your cleaning woman.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Two Report Killing Of Big Copperheads

Two large copperhead snakes were killed Monday afternoon in Chester.

One snake was 38 inches long and the other 30. Both were thick-bodied, full-grown, Blake and Jones said.

U.N. Ready To Endorse A-Ban Pact

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly planned to end its stop-and-go 23rd session today with votes endorsing the treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons and condemning South Africa's hold on South-West Africa.

The 124-nation assembly scheduled morning, afternoon and night meetings to wind up the session, which began last Sept. 19, recessed Dec. 19 and resumed April 24.

The day's business included a new compromise resolution on South-West Africa introduced Tuesday night, a resolution on the nuclear treaty recommended by the assembly's main Political Committee Monday and a routine report on delegates' credentials.

The resolution on South-West Africa gives the territory the African name of Namibia, condemns South Africa for not letting the United Nations take over the area, calls on all countries to "take effective economic and other measures" to force South Africa out, and recommends that the Security Council also "take effective measures" to that end.

In the compromise, the Latin Americans got the Africans and Asians to take out a call for the council to impose sanctions against South Africa.

But the revised version retained a statement that South Africa's "continued foreign occupation of Nambia . . . constitutes a grave threat to international peace." Since such a finding is a prerequisite for sanctions, that statement was expected to cause the United States, Britain and France—all big traders with South Africa—to abstain in the voting.

Band Parents Pick Officers At Oak Glen

Robert Welch was elected president of the Oak Glen Band Parents during a meeting Monday night in the school.

Also selected were Carles Dawson, first vice president; Mrs. Jacob Turner, second vice president; Frank Krzys, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Welch, secetary, and Mrs. Krzys, historian.

Mrs. Leo Carpenter, chairman of the birthday calendar sale being held by the group, said all materials should be returned to her by June 20.

Wheeler Hobbs was appointed chairman of a booth at the New Cumberland fair being held today through Saturday.

Robert Swain vice president, was in charge.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ralph Ward, Mrs. Krzys and Mrs. Herman Freeman.

An informal tea for the parents of new band members will highlight a meeting June 24 in the school.

U.N. Ready To Endorse A-Ban Pact

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly planned to end its stop-and-go 23rd session today with votes endorsing the treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons and condemning South Africa's hold on South-West Africa.

The 124-nation assembly scheduled morning, afternoon and night meetings to wind up the session, which began last Sept. 19, recessed Dec. 19 and resumed April 24.

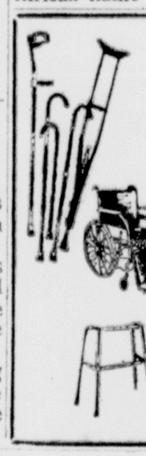

The day's business included a new compromise resolution on South-West Africa introduced Tuesday night, a resolution on the nuclear treaty recommended by the assembly's main Political Committee Monday and a routine report on delegates' credentials.

The resolution on South-West Africa gives the territory the African name of Namibia, condemns South Africa for not letting the United Nations take over the area, calls on all countries to "take effective economic and other measures" to force South Africa out, and recommends that the Security Council also "take effective measures" to that end.

In the compromise, the Latin Americans got the Africans and Asians to take out a call for the council to impose sanctions against South Africa.

But the revised version retained a statement that South Africa's "continued foreign occupation of Nambia . . . constitutes a grave threat to international peace." Since such a finding is a prerequisite for sanctions, that statement was expected to cause the United States, Britain and France—all big traders with South Africa—to abstain in the voting.

Archeologists will excavate during the next few years at several sites in the Yucatan Peninsula's Rio Bec area near the Guatemala border, trying to throw light on mysteries of the ancient Maya people.
